KPA
KELLER PERSONALITY ASSESSMENT

Job Fit Report

Aldrin Bandarlipe

Position: Team: EA/Ops Manager
Completed: February 21, 2026

KELLERWILLIAMS

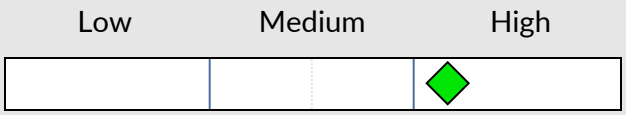

The information contained in this report and all other information available about any person should be considered as a whole. It should never be used as the sole basis for making a hiring, developmental or promotional decision. This report is intended to be used in accordance with all applicable laws, compliance with which is the responsibility of the employer.

Copyright © 2026 All material herein is copyrighted by its respective authors. All Rights Reserved.

Summary

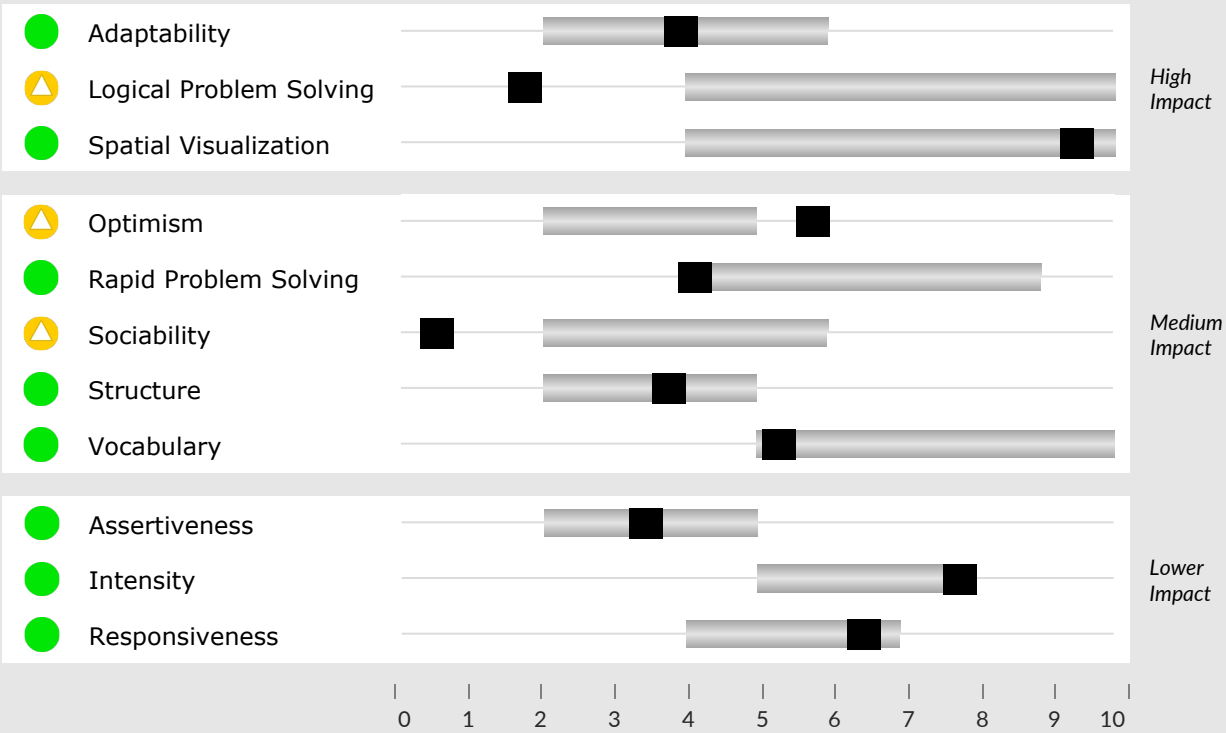

The graphs below show how well Aldrin matches with the behavior and thinking traits required in the job of Team: EA/Ops Manager.

Job Match Rating

Aldrin has an overall High fit with the job of Team: EA/Ops Manager.

Job Match Detail

Green Dot - Strong match between the person and the job.

Yellow Triangle - Some mismatch that may or may not be significant.

Red Dash - Significant mismatch is a source of concern.

Black Box - The person's score for each trait.

Grey Bar - The target range for the job. Scales without gray bars are considered not predictive for the job.

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Job Match Review

This section describes the key behavior and thinking traits in order of their importance to the job. Consider how each trait might impact Aldrin in the job of Team: EA/Ops Manager.

Higher Impact

Adaptability

Aldrin is independent-minded, and he will generally cooperate with others on a practical basis. He has definite ideas and standards of his own, however, which he will not be quick to compromise.

Logical Problem Solving

Rather than pulling problems apart and solving them in a step-by-step manner, Aldrin will instead look for trial-and-error methods to resolve complex problems.

Spatial Visualization

Aldrin can think deeply about and visualize complex systems. He can mentally manipulate multiple variables in complex models to understand what will happen when something changes. This talent aids him in any task that involves engineering, technical, mechanical, or structural problems.

Medium Impact

Optimism

Aldrin has the ability to spot things which might go wrong. Others might mistakenly see him as being negative, but it is his natural ability to question and anticipate issues which may not unfold as planned .

Rapid Problem Solving

Aldrin is good at quickly solving the many issues that come up during the day. He likes to use an intuitive approach, which makes it easy for him to rapidly identify patterns or themes to solve problems.

Sociability

Aldrin is a cautious and reserved person who does not enter swiftly and decisively into new social situations. While he is somewhat apprehensive initially, he often warms up to people over time. He has greater aptitude for concentrating on task-directed activities than for generating new social contacts and managing problematic relationships.

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Structure

Aldrin tends to view his work activities from a broad rather than structured perspective. He is able to work within organizational guidelines and designated parameters of responsibility, but he likes to have flexibility in organizing his tasks and identifying immediate priorities. He may resist long delays or what he perceives as "bureaucratic red tape."

Vocabulary

Aldrin can readily understand most concepts in the workplace. He is interested in learning and new ideas. He retains information and is able to use learned ideas to solve new problems. He has the ability to pick up on some nuance of communication.

Lower Impact

Assertiveness

Aldrin is a conservative individual who can work independently on multiple tasks. He prefers to solicit input from others rather than seeking to persuade or push others to see his point of view. He is, however, quick to support and assist others when they need his help.

Intensity

Aldrin experiences a strong reaction to obstacles at work as they present themselves. Although he may occasionally have a visible reaction, much of his response will be internal and may be difficult to see from the outside.

Responsiveness

Aldrin is alert and cognizant of time demands. He is not highly expressive or inclined to interject or promote his views. He is, however, able to adapt to a time sensitive environment requiring him to sustain efficiency and urgency when processing tasks.

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Operating Style

A person’s behavior and thinking traits combine together in unique ways to impact the way he or she works with and communicates with others.

Communication

Aldrin enjoys providing information, assisting others, and being sought out for his expertise. He is most confident when he has all the facts at his disposal and he can appeal to others' sense of reason to gain consensus. In areas of his expertise, he can speak with quiet conviction and authority. He may be somewhat ill at ease or reticent in new situations, but after he gets to know people and understands what to expect, he is apt be more expressive, relaxed, and willing to share his views. He is not comfortable being forceful or being pressured to negotiate or persuade under duress. Instead, he strives to keep communications low key, purposeful, and mutually respectful.

Decision Making

Aldrin naturally places a strong emphasis on making good decisions and avoiding mistakes. He is often diligent in gathering the facts, examining precedents, and weighing options prudently. He is very willing to seek input from credible sources, and he is capable of making objective assessments. He avoids decisions based on emotion, impulse, or whim. In problem solving, his analytical skills and quality-mindedness are strengths.

Ideal Environment

Aldrin is conscientious and reliable in his efforts to follow the rules, comply with standards, and conform to established methods. He likes to know what is expected and to have clearly defined processes for getting things done. He would be unsettled by a disorganized, crisis-driven atmosphere. He values reasonable lead time to prioritize, plan, and manage his projects from start to finish. He dislikes rapid, unplanned change or many unanticipated priority shifts. He places a strong emphasis on doing things right and minimizing the risk of error or negative outcomes.

Ideal Supervisor

Aldrin is encouraged by positive feedback and a reliable supervisor who is consistent in his expectations. His ideal manager is responsive to Aldrin's need for information, feedback, and validation. Aldrin works hard to be knowledgeable and well-versed in his work so that he can take initiative with assurance and conviction. He values intellectual challenge and ongoing learning opportunities. Aldrin appreciates good organization, structure, and acknowledgement for quality work. He values a cordial and approachable manager who has superior knowledgeable and expertise.

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Team Dynamics

Aldrin is very willing to collaborate with peers and to participate in a cooperative and cohesive team effort when necessary. He is uneasy with contention and interpersonal conflicts in the workplace. He prefers to focus on tasks and analytical problem-solving rather than personalities. He can enjoy working in solitude or in small work groups. He does not require a great deal of social activity, and he avoids being the center of attention. He would rather work quietly behind the scenes and interact with people for purposes of obtaining and sharing information.

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Descriptive Review

Aldrin's traits do not exist in isolation of each other. Each trait impacts the others. Below is an integrated view of Aldrin. As you read this section, consider how Aldrin might perform as a Team: EA/Ops Manager.

Aldrin will work best in a position requiring autonomy in the completion of tasks. He will prefer to work on his own with projects and tasks where he has a degree of independence in establishing methodology. He has moderate assertive tendencies which he channels most comfortably toward task-directed or analytical problem-solving activities. He is less confident utilizing aggressive social behavior but can initiate action in familiar situations. He is an expressive individual who will seek change, variety, and a relatively quick pace. He is adept at handling fast-moving activities as he likes to deal with numerous issues at the same time.

He is aware of people's expectations but he is not highly adaptable or concerned about approval. He will not alter his behavior to satisfy others unless he sees a good reason to do so. He is not a structure-oriented individual, and he has good tolerance for open-ended work. He is comfortable in jobs that have flexibility and allow freedom of action. He will not tend to seek out authoritative leadership roles. He will tend to employ a more consensual style of management and will be purposeful in his relationships.

Aldrin is most comfortable when dealing with people whom he knows well. He prefers to interact with those with whom he has familiarity and can work on his own for extended periods of time. He is often cheerful and upbeat, but he is aware of possible drawbacks. When frustrated, he responds with a high level of emotional intensity. Much of this intensity may be internally directed and difficult to discern from the outside or may emerge briefly as agitation or passion.

He generally takes a quick, intuitive approach to solving problems, and he prefers a job with new problems to solve. He does not like working carefully through more complex problems.

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Job Considerations

Aldrin has an overall high fit with the behavior and talent traits required in the job of Team: EA/Ops Manager. When evaluating potential job fit, it's helpful to examine each mismatch between Aldrin and the job targets.

Other Mismatches

Yellow mismatches are not considered overly important but are worth noting.

Logical Problem Solving

Job Fit Description

The Logical Problem Solving job target is High. People with high Logical Problem Solving are able to think through complex problems in a methodical, linear manner and can typically communicate their solutions effectively.

Aldrin scored below the target range.

Considerations

- He may struggle to be more decisive, especially regarding complex questions.
- He may at times have difficulty explaining his ideas and logic to others.

Optimism

Job Fit Description

The Optimism job target is Medium. People with medium Optimism have the flexibility of approaching people and situations in a positive manner while having a sense of skepticism as to what might go wrong.

Aldrin scored somewhat above the Optimism target.

Considerations

- He may at times miss some signals that things are not going well.
- He may at times be too lenient regarding people or situations.

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Sociability

Job Fit Description

The Sociability job target is Medium. People with medium Sociability are able to meet and connect with people as well as work on their own.

He scored below the Sociability target.

Considerations

- He will have to push himself to find connections with others, but he has the ability to do so.
- He may have to work a little harder to push himself to meet new people and interact with others much of the day.

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Trait Definitions: Behavior

Behavioral traits describe how a person acts. Individuals who score at the highest and lowest points have more pronounced characteristics.

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

DEFINITION	LOW	HIGH
1) ASSERTIVENESS taking initiative	RESERVED • Achieve goals through cooperation and good planning • Conservative in action • Move slowly to action • Faced with obstacles, tends to stop and reassess before moving forward again • Typically receptive to the actions of others	ASSERTIVE • Determined, persistent, and direct • Willing to move forward, take actions, and solve problems • May be confrontational and stubborn
2) SOCIABILITY the desire to work with others	TASK ORIENTED • Introspective and enjoy working with things and ideas • Must work at interacting with others, and may find long periods of social interaction stressful • Low sociability usually does not indicate unfriendliness, but a preference for fewer social contacts and less tendency to actively seek new relationships	PEOPLE ORIENTED • Driven to interact with others • Prefers not to work alone for extended periods of time and actively seeks new relationships • Tends to have a wide circle of contacts and acquaintances
3) RESPONSIVENESS how a person reacts and responds	CALM • Steady, calm, and patient • Works at a slower, composed pace to accommodate their reaction time • Tends to internalize their feelings and opinions	IMPATIENT • Fast-paced, excitable and impatient • Prefers an exciting, hectic, fast-paced work environment and likes a lot of things happening at once • Expresses themselves outwardly, rather than holding in their feelings when responding to external events
4) STRUCTURE the need to seek order and certainty	FLEXIBLE • Greater tolerance for ambiguity • More concerned with outcomes than following rules and established procedures	LIKES ORDER • Prefers order and certainty • Follows the rules and established procedures • Uncomfortable with uncertainty and ambiguity • Accurate and thorough
5) ADAPTABILITY the desire to accommodate others	INDEPENDENT • Independent minded and less concerned about the impact of their behavior on others. • Does not readily take other people's thoughts and feelings when making a decision.	ACCOMMODATING • Very concerned about other people's thoughts and feelings when deciding what to do or say • Diplomatic and tactful • Wants to be on positive terms with most people
6) INTENSITY the degree of reaction	COOL • Reacts less strongly when frustrated • Seeks a more reasoned or logical approach to resolution	HOT • When frustrated, responds with a high level of emotional vigor. Whether or not this frustration or vigor is displayed outwardly depends on a person's level of responsiveness
7) OPTIMISM the degree of positive thinking	SKEPTICAL • Actively looks for potential problems and worry about what could go wrong	OPTIMISTIC • Feels cheerful and upbeat most of the time and may ignore negative information.

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Trait Definitions: Thinking

Thinking traits describe how a person processes ideas and problems.

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

DEFINITION	NOT PREFERRED	PREFERRED
1) LOGICAL PROBLEM SOLVING the preference to think through large, complicated problems in a linear, step-by-step way	• May prefer rapid-fire approach • Will use tried and tested approaches when applicable	• Utilizes a methodical, process-oriented approach to solving problems. • Strategic thinkers, able to organize their ideas • Easily communicates solutions to others.
2) RAPID FIRE PROBLEM SOLVING the preference to deal quickly with many problems, one after the other	• May prefer logical approach • Will apply models and systems	• Tends to "just know" the answers, but not necessarily how to explain them to others • Good with quick, seat-of-the-pants problem-solving situations
3) SPATIAL VISUALIZATION a natural ability to hold, manipulate, and think about three dimensions in one's mind.	• Rather than picturing three dimensions in their mind, will utilize more labor-intensive strategies when working on spatial problems	• Can easily picture three dimensional objects and space in their minds • Tries out spatial solutions to problems mentally, without having to go through the intense labor of actually constructing something • Enjoys working with things and they like the product of their labor to be something that someone could actually touch or see
4) VOCABULARY a measure of the number and precision of the concepts a person uses in understanding and learning from experience.	• More deliberate in understanding and processing new ideas and may leverage more visual or kinesthetic modes of thought when dealing with their experiences.	• Quick to pick up and understand new ideas and concepts and able to quickly leverage them in dealing with new experiences.

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

KPA
KELLER PERSONALITY ASSESSMENT

Job Fit Consulting Guide

Aldrin Bandarlipe

Position: Team: EA/Ops Manager
Completed: February 21, 2026

KELLERWILLIAMS

The information contained in this report and all other information available about any person should be considered as a whole. It should never be used as the sole basis for making a hiring, developmental or promotional decision. This report is intended to be used in accordance with all applicable laws, compliance with which is the responsibility of the employer.

Copyright © 2026 All material herein is copyrighted by its respective authors. All Rights Reserved.

How to Use this Guide

Making a decision to hire a candidate or not has long-lasting implications for both the organization and the candidate. In making a decision, the factors for consideration include knowledge, skills, track record, personality, fit with company culture, and references.

To make the most informed decision possible about whether Aldrin is a good fit for the Team: EA/Ops Manager job this guide provides:

1. Interviewer Prep Notes
   - Instructions on how to prepare for and conduct the interview, as well as decision point scripts
2. Scripts
   - Questions to be used in the interviews, with room for notes
3. Forms

For these steps in the Career Visioning Process:

Step Two: Interviews	1. Job Fit Verification	☐
	2. Thought Process	☐
	3. References	☐
	4. Life Story	☐
	5. Motivational	☐
Step Three: Perspective	6. Group	☐
	7. Defense	☐
Step Four: Commitment	8. Expectations Conversation and Offer	☐

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

1: Job Fit Verification Interview

Review the three steps below before you conduct the interview.

Step One: Prepare for the Interview

1. Thoroughly review the Job Fit Report for Aldrin.

2. Study the script and probing suggestions for Aldrin; edit the questions and add your own if necessary.

3. Check your mindset—your goal is to be objective.

   - Stay neutral, curious, and *listen
   - Watch your body language — don't nod, agree, cross arms, or lean forward or back
   - It's not a conversation — other than asking questions, don't engage with him and share personal experiences

Step Two: Conduct the Interview

1. Welcome Aldrin to the interview and make him comfortable:

   > Aldrin, thank you for coming in today. The reason I wanted to meet with you is to get to know you better, and understand some of the things that are important to you. At the end of our discussion, we can both determine if it makes sense to continue our conversation.

2. Introduce the verification process and set expectations:

   > I'm sure you are curious about the Keller Personality Assessment (or KPA) you completed for us, and I am excited to share the results. The report we have received describes your unique combination of traits. Each trait has beneficial aspects, so remember that there is no good or bad combination of traits! My goal is to truly understand who you are and how you operate, and review and edit the report together to get a custom report that is all about you. You are going to hear some great things about yourself—be proud of who you are! Ready to get started?(Big Smile!)

3. Follow the instructions for the Job Considerations, Operating Style and Descriptive Review, beginning each section by reading the heading and the purpose of the section.

4. Take notes throughout the interview, capturing words and phrases Aldrin uses as exactly as possible.

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Step Three: Decision Point

Decide if Aldrin is a good fit with the Team: EA/Ops Manager job.

1. Verify the report with Aldrin, recording his responses in the Candidate Report Rating.

> On a scale of 1 to 10, how would you rate this report?
> Specifically, what was most accurate?
> What would you say was least accurate?
> Overall, do you have any comments or feedback on the report?

2. STOP if Aldrin is not a match, and exit with class:

> Thanks so much for your time today! I've really enjoyed getting to know you. We are in the process of interviewing several other candidates, and will be in touch (provide a date if possible and follow up with a call or email to let Aldrin know he did not get the job).
>
> (Or, refer to the job ranking) This role would not make the best use of your talents as you can see, (show Aldrin his Job Match Rating) but this/these roles would be an excellent fit (show him his Job Match rating for the role/s). (If you are hiring for that role or can refer Aldrin to someone who is) I would be happy to talk to you about that opportunity.
>
> Respond to possible questions:
> What's the next step?
> - I'll review the edits we made today in line with the Job Profile and determine if we have a match.
>
> What's the report for?
> - My goal today was to really get to know you as a person. Now I'll review the edits we made today in line with the Job Profile and determine if we have a match.
>
> Can I have a copy of my report?
> - I'm sorry, while I have shared with you everything generated by the report, we do not release the printed copy.

3. MOVE FORWARD if Aldrin is a match:

> You are a close match for this position, and I'd like to continue the interview process. I have some more questions I'd like to ask, and I am sure you will have some questions for me! Let's take a quick break and continue! (Offer a beverage and give Aldrin a few minutes to relax.)

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Job Considerations I

This section describes each of Aldrins's traits in relation to the job of Team: EA/Ops Manager.

Read each statement about the trait to Aldrin and ask him how the statement sounds to him. Follow up with one or more of the probing questions that are provided for each trait. Be sure to dig into each example his gives you with statements like "tell me more", "give me another example", and "walk me through".

Adaptability

Ask Aldrin

On a scale of 1 to 10, how accurate would you say each sentence is?

> Aldrin is independent-minded, and he will generally cooperate with others on a practical basis. He has definite ideas and standards of his own, however, which he will not be quick to compromise.

If 10: What makes it a 10?

If 6 to 9: What would you change in the statement to make it a “10?”

If 1 to 5: Tell me how you are not that way.

Probing Suggestions

- Some companies will go to any length to keep people inside and outside the organization happy. Tell me about situations where you have been urged to do this but felt it was unreasonable or unachievable.
- While pleasing people in the work environment is a worthwhile objective, some people are very difficult, if not impossible, to please. Tell me about situations where you've gone the extra mile to keep someone happy but ultimately decided you could go no further. What was the end result?

Dig Deeper

- "Tell me more” or “What’s another example?” or “Walk me through"
- “Give me an example of how that shows up in your job/at home/with your friends.”

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Spatial Visualization

Ask Aldrin

On a scale of 1 to 10, how accurate would you say each sentence is?

Aldrin can think deeply about and visualize complex systems. He can mentally manipulate multiple variables in complex models to understand what will happen when something changes. This talent aids him in any task that involves engineering, technical, mechanical, or structural problems.

If 10: What makes it a 10?

If 6 to 9: What would you change in the statement to make it a “10?”

If 1 to 5: Tell me how you are not that way.

Probing Suggestions

- When it comes to working with systems or models, some people are strongest in the development or creative phase, while others really excel at implementing and fine-tuning the finished procedure. Which part of the process do you feel you are best suited for? Tell me about a situation where you were involved in that type of work. What role did you play?

Dig Deeper

- "Tell me more” or “What’s another example?” or “Walk me through"
- “Give me an example of how that shows up in your job/at home/with your friends.”

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Rapid Problem Solving

Ask Aldrin

On a scale of 1 to 10, how accurate would you say each sentence is?

> Aldrin is good at quickly solving the many issues that come up during the day. He likes to use an intuitive approach, which makes it easy for him to rapidly identify patterns or themes to solve problems.

If 10: What makes it a 10?

If 6 to 9: What would you change in the statement to make it a “10?”

If 1 to 5: Tell me how you are not that way.

Probing Suggestions

- Tell me about a situation where you found yourself being bombarded with one problem after another. Which ones required you to rely on your intuition to come up with a solution? In what areas do you feel most confident using your "gut instinct" to solve problems? How do you determine when a situation needs a "quick fix" or would benefit from a more comprehensive, in-depth solution?

Dig Deeper

- "Tell me more” or “What’s another example?” or “Walk me through"
- “Give me an example of how that shows up in your job/at home/with your friends.”

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Structure

Ask Aldrin

On a scale of 1 to 10, how accurate would you say each sentence is?

Aldrin tends to view his work activities from a broad rather than structured perspective. He is able to work within organizational guidelines and designated parameters of responsibility, but he likes to have flexibility in organizing his tasks and identifying immediate priorities. He may resist long delays or what he perceives as "bureaucratic red tape."

If 10: What makes it a 10?

If 6 to 9: What would you change in the statement to make it a “10?”

If 1 to 5: Tell me how you are not that way.

Probing Suggestions

- Some jobs are highly structured with well-defined procedures that must be followed in order to achieve the end goal. Other jobs are more open-ended so people can use their own methods to achieve results. Which do you prefer? Give me examples of why you think this based upon your past experiences.
- Give me a few examples of past work situations when you had few procedures to follow and were able to use your own ingenuity and thinking to improve the way the job was done.

Dig Deeper

- "Tell me more” or “What’s another example?” or “Walk me through"
- “Give me an example of how that shows up in your job/at home/with your friends.”

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Vocabulary

Ask Aldrin

On a scale of 1 to 10, how accurate would you say each sentence is?

Aldrin can readily understand most concepts in the workplace. He is interested in learning and new ideas. He retains information and is able to use learned ideas to solve new problems. He has the ability to pick up on some nuance of communication.

If 10: What makes it a 10?

If 6 to 9: What would you change in the statement to make it a “10?”

If 1 to 5: Tell me how you are not that way.

Probing Suggestions

- What was the most recent skill you had to acquire, either as part of your job or outside of work? How steep was the learning curve for you? What parts did you feel were easy to learn? What areas in particular did you find most challenging? How long did it take you to feel like you were up to speed?

Dig Deeper

- "Tell me more” or “What’s another example?” or “Walk me through"
- “Give me an example of how that shows up in your job/at home/with your friends.”

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Assertiveness

Ask Aldrin

On a scale of 1 to 10, how accurate would you say each sentence is?

> Aldrin is a conservative individual who can work independently on multiple tasks. He prefers to solicit input from others rather than seeking to persuade or push others to see his point of view. He is, however, quick to support and assist others when they need his help.

If 10: What makes it a 10?

If 6 to 9: What would you change in the statement to make it a “10?”

If 1 to 5: Tell me how you are not that way.

Probing Suggestions

- In dealing with others who've worked with you, think about your most effective team member or manager. What would he or she say about how you use your assertiveness to get the job done? What would this person say about situations when you might have used either more or less assertiveness and been more effective?
- Tell me about some situations where you've found it necessary to take action in order to accomplish your objectives. What were the end results?

Dig Deeper

- "Tell me more” or “What’s another example?” or “Walk me through"
- “Give me an example of how that shows up in your job/at home/with your friends.”

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Intensity

Ask Aldrin

On a scale of 1 to 10, how accurate would you say each sentence is?

Aldrin experiences a strong reaction to obstacles at work as they present themselves. Although he may occasionally have a visible reaction, much of his response will be internal and may be difficult to see from the outside.

If 10: What makes it a 10?

If 6 to 9: What would you change in the statement to make it a “10?”

If 1 to 5: Tell me how you are not that way.

Probing Suggestions

- Think about a time when you felt your boss was not making the right decision. How did you deal with the situation?
- Think about a time when you were confident you were correct about an issue, but a decision was made that you didn't agree with. What did you do?

Dig Deeper

- "Tell me more” or “What’s another example?” or “Walk me through"
- “Give me an example of how that shows up in your job/at home/with your friends.”

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Responsiveness

Ask Aldrin

On a scale of 1 to 10, how accurate would you say each sentence is?

Aldrin is alert and cognizant of time demands. He is not highly expressive or inclined to interject or promote his views. He is, however, able to adapt to a time sensitive environment requiring him to sustain efficiency and urgency when processing tasks.

If 10: What makes it a 10?

If 6 to 9: What would you change in the statement to make it a “10?”

If 1 to 5: Tell me how you are not that way.

Probing Suggestions

- Juggling and controlling many activities can often be a challenge. How have you managed this in the past?
- In prioritizing your own activities, how do you determine what needs to be done quickly and what can wait until a later time? Give me examples of how you have done this before. How did your managers react, both positively and negatively, to the way you balanced your priorities?

Dig Deeper

- "Tell me more” or “What’s another example?” or “Walk me through"
- “Give me an example of how that shows up in your job/at home/with your friends.”

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Job Considerations II

As you read these statements to Aldrin and ask follow-up questions, listen for examples that demonstrate the mismatch or fit between Aldrin and the Team: EA/Ops Manager job.

Logical Problem Solving

Ask Aldrin

On a scale of 1 to 10, how accurate would you say each sentence is?

Rather than pulling problems apart and solving them in a step-by-step manner, Aldrin will instead look for trial-and-error methods to resolve complex problems.

If 10: What makes it a 10?

If 6 to 9: What would you change in the statement to make it a “10?”

If 1 to 5: Tell me how you are not that way.

Probing Suggestions

- Tell me about a time during the last 6-12 months when you faced a particularly complicated issue. What role did you play in solving the problem? How did you go about assessing the issue when you first became aware of it? Walk me through how you investigated the situation and/or gathered your information to determine what was going on? Once you felt like you really had a handle on the issue, what options did you consider for fixing the problem? How did you decide which one(s) to go with? Once the problem was resolved, how did you feel about the end result? How did things go from that point forward?

Dig Deeper

- "Tell me more” or “What’s another example?” or “Walk me through"
- “Give me an example of how that shows up in your job/at home/with your friends.”

Considerations

- He may struggle to be more decisive, especially regarding complex questions.
- He may at times have difficulty explaining his ideas and logic to others.

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Optimism

Ask Aldrin

On a scale of 1 to 10, how accurate would you say each sentence is?

Aldrin has the ability to spot things which might go wrong. Others might mistakenly see him as being negative, but it is his natural ability to question and anticipate issues which may not unfold as planned .

If 10: What makes it a 10?

If 6 to 9: What would you change in the statement to make it a “10?”

If 1 to 5: Tell me how you are not that way.

Probing Suggestions

- When approaching difficult situations, how much thought do you give to potential problems that could occur? Give me some examples of times you've anticipated challenges that may or may not have materialized.
- Some people approach the future with a high degree of optimism while others are more concerned with what might go wrong. How would you describe your perspective? Give me some examples. How do you think your outlook has affected others with whom you've worked?

Dig Deeper

- "Tell me more” or “What’s another example?” or “Walk me through"
- “Give me an example of how that shows up in your job/at home/with your friends.”

Considerations

- He may at times miss some signals that things are not going well.
- He may at times be too lenient regarding people or situations.

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Sociability

Ask Aldrin

On a scale of 1 to 10, how accurate would you say each sentence is?

> Aldrin is a cautious and reserved person who does not enter swiftly and decisively into new social situations. While he is somewhat apprehensive initially, he often warms up to people over time. He has greater aptitude for concentrating on task-directed activities than for generating new social contacts and managing problematic relationships.

If 10: What makes it a 10?

If 6 to 9: What would you change in the statement to make it a “10?”

If 1 to 5: Tell me how you are not that way.

Probing Suggestions

- Certain jobs require a high level of people contact while others allow you to work more on your own. Which of these situations have you encountered in your past jobs? Which ones did you find most comfortable?
- Some people are commonly referred to as "social animals" because they need constant people contact. Others are very good working on their own handling projects, tasks, and assignments. Given your past work experiences, where do you see yourself as being most comfortable, and where do you see yourself as being most challenged? Give me examples of times you've found yourself in both situations.

Dig Deeper

- "Tell me more” or “What’s another example?” or “Walk me through"
- “Give me an example of how that shows up in your job/at home/with your friends.”

Considerations

- He will have to push himself to find connections with others, but he has the ability to do so.
- He may have to work a little harder to push himself to meet new people and interact with others much of the day.

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Operating Style

Aldrin's behavior traits combine together in unique ways to impact the way he works with and communicates with others.

Read each statement below to Aldrin. Ask Aldrin to assess the accuracy of each statement on a scale of 1 to 10.

Communication

Ask Aldrin

On a scale of 1 to 10, how would you rate the accuracy of the following statements?

Aldrin enjoys providing information, assisting others, and being sought out for his expertise. He is most confident when he has all the facts at his disposal and he can appeal to others' sense of reason to gain consensus. In areas of his expertise, he can speak with quiet conviction and authority. He may be somewhat ill at ease or reticent in new situations, but after he gets to know people and understands what to expect, he is apt be more expressive, relaxed, and willing to share his views. He is not comfortable being forceful or being pressured to negotiate or persuade under duress. Instead, he strives to keep communications low key, purposeful, and mutually respectful.

Decision Making

Ask Aldrin

On a scale of 1 to 10, how would you rate the accuracy of the following statements?

Aldrin naturally places a strong emphasis on making good decisions and avoiding mistakes. He is often diligent in gathering the facts, examining precedents, and weighing options prudently. He is very willing to seek input from credible sources, and he is capable of making objective assessments. He avoids decisions based on emotion, impulse, or whim. In problem solving, his analytical skills and quality-mindedness are strengths.

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Ideal Environment

Ask Aldrin

On a scale of 1 to 10, how would you rate the accuracy of the following statements?

Aldrin is conscientious and reliable in his efforts to follow the rules, comply with standards, and conform to established methods. He likes to know what is expected and to have clearly defined processes for getting things done. He would be unsettled by a disorganized, crisis-driven atmosphere. He values reasonable lead time to prioritize, plan, and manage his projects from start to finish. He dislikes rapid, unplanned change or many unanticipated priority shifts. He places a strong emphasis on doing things right and minimizing the risk of error or negative outcomes.

Ideal Supervisor

Ask Aldrin

On a scale of 1 to 10, how would you rate the accuracy of the following statements?

Aldrin is encouraged by positive feedback and a reliable supervisor who is consistent in his expectations. His ideal manager is responsive to Aldrin's need for information, feedback, and validation. Aldrin works hard to be knowledgeable and well-versed in his work so that he can take initiative with assurance and conviction. He values intellectual challenge and ongoing learning opportunities. Aldrin appreciates good organization, structure, and acknowledgement for quality work. He values a cordial and approachable manager who has superior knowledgeable and expertise.

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Team Dynamics

Ask Aldrin

On a scale of 1 to 10, how would you rate the accuracy of the following statements?

Aldrin is very willing to collaborate with peers and to participate in a cooperative and cohesive team effort when necessary. He is uneasy with contention and interpersonal conflicts in the workplace. He prefers to focus on tasks and analytical problem-solving rather than personalities. He can enjoy working in solitude or in small work groups. He does not require a great deal of social activity, and he avoids being the center of attention. He would rather work quietly behind the scenes and interact with people for purposes of obtaining and sharing information.

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Descriptive Review

Aldrin's traits do not exist in isolation of each other; each trait impacts the other. Below is an integrated view of Aldrin. Read this section to Aldrin and ask him to rate the accuracy of it on a scale of 1 to 10.

Aldrin will work best in a position requiring autonomy in the completion of tasks. He will prefer to work on his own with projects and tasks where he has a degree of independence in establishing methodology. He has moderate assertive tendencies which he channels most comfortably toward task-directed or analytical problem-solving activities. He is less confident utilizing aggressive social behavior but can initiate action in familiar situations. He is an expressive individual who will seek change, variety, and a relatively quick pace. He is adept at handling fast-moving activities as he likes to deal with numerous issues at the same time.

He is aware of people's expectations but he is not highly adaptable or concerned about approval. He will not alter his behavior to satisfy others unless he sees a good reason to do so. He is not a structure-oriented individual, and he has good tolerance for open-ended work. He is comfortable in jobs that have flexibility and allow freedom of action. He will not tend to seek out authoritative leadership roles. He will tend to employ a more consensual style of management and will be purposeful in his relationships.

Aldrin is most comfortable when dealing with people whom he knows well. He prefers to interact with those with whom he has familiarity and can work on his own for extended periods of time. He is often cheerful and upbeat, but he is aware of possible drawbacks. When frustrated, he responds with a high level of emotional intensity. Much of this intensity may be internally directed and difficult to discern from the outside or may emerge briefly as agitation or passion.

He generally takes a quick, intuitive approach to solving problems, and he prefers a job with new problems to solve. He does not like working carefully through more complex problems.

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Candidate Report Rating

Use the space below to verify the overall report with Aldrin.

Overall Rating On a scale of 1 to 10, how would you rate this report?	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
Most Accurate Specifically, what was most accurate about the report?
Least Accurate What would you say was least accurate?
Overall Comments Overall, do you have any comments or feedback about the report?

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

2: Thought Process Interview

Step One: Prepare for the Thought Process Interview

1. Review the Interview Tips from CV
    - With open-ended questions, the conversation can go in many directions—be prepared to ask great questions, listen, and analyze
2. Study the questions; make edits and add your own if necessary.
3. Check your mindset
    - Stay objective.
    - Be Thorough. Don't skip questions!

Step Two: Conduct the Interview

1. Segue from the Job Fit Verification:

> Thank you for your candor! I'd like to ask a few more questions. Before we get started, would you like to take a break? Can I get you some water/coffee?

2. Take notes throughout the interview, capturing words and phrases Aldrin uses as exactly as possible.

Step Three: Decision Point

1. STOP if Aldrin is not a match, and exit with class.

> The role we are currently offering would not be the best match for your talents. I'd like to stay in touch and if I hear of anything that would be a good fit for you, I will certainly let you know. I would also be happy to hear from you if you know of anyone who you feel would be a good fit for our organization.

2. MOVE FORWARD if Aldrin is a match.

> You are a close match for this position, and I'd like to continue the interview process. Would you be available for another interview tomorrow / later this week / early next week?

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Thought Process

1. What did you do to prepare for this interview?

2. What are your strengths? What would _____ (e.g., your broker, your manager) say are your strengths?

3. What are your weaknesses? What would _____ (e.g., your broker, your manager) say are your weaknesses?

4. Give 2 or 3 specific instances of when you were trained really well.

5. Give 2 or 3 specific instances of when you were trained poorly.

6. Give 2 or 3 specific instances of when you were managed really well.

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

7. Give 2 or 3 specific instances of when you were managed poorly.

8. How do you motivate yourself to do things really well that you do not like to do?

9. How do you set goals?

10. How do you hold yourself accountable to meeting those goals?

11. Describe a major career decision you have made and the steps you went through to make it.

12. Describe a major personal decision you have made and the steps you went through to make it.

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

13. Think of a major career accomplishment you made. What happened? What was your contribution? How did your contribution impact the outcome? What lessons did you learn?

14. Think of a major personal accomplishment you made. What happened? What was your contribution? How did your contribution impact the outcome? What lessons did you learn?

15. How long would you be willing to fail before you succeed at a task?

16. Think about a big mistake you have made in your career or personal life. What happened? What did you do? What lessons did you learn? How did your life change?

17. How would you describe the relationship you would like to have with your co-workers?

18. How would you describe the relationship you would like to have with your manager or supervisor?

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

19. How would you describe the relationship you currently have with your co-workers and manager or supervisor?

20. Who are the 3 people you most like, admire, and respect, and why?

21. Who have been your most outstanding co-workers or employees, and why?

22. What defines a good performer on the job?

23. What defines a bad performer on the job?

24. In what kind of working environment are you most productive?

25. In what kind of working environment are you least productive?

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

26. What are your long-term career goals?

27. Why do you think you are a strong candidate for this position?

28. If we don’t get together on this job, what career move will you make next?

29. From everything you’ve learned about our organization, tell me how you feel you’d make a contribution.

30. If we're sitting here a year from now celebrating what a great year it's been for you in this role, what did we achieve together?

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

3: References

Step One: Prepare

1. Review the reference worksheets.
2. Check your mindset
   - Stay objective
   - Interpret what you hear and don't hear: People may be hesitant to speak negatively—but that doesn't mean they only have good things to say.

Step Two: Check the References

1. Get at least 3 third level references.
2. Ask each of the references you talk with for the name of another reference (not on the original list). This will take you two levels deep.

   > Who else do you know who has experience with Aldrin and can give us a different perspective? Do you happen to have their phone number?

3. Use the same script to ask the second-level references for additional references to go three levels deep. If some of the references object to giving names:

   > Reference Objection: I don't know if I should share other names.
   > Interviewer: In our company we have a discipline of identifying other people who have worked with Aldrin so we can get to know him better. As a hiring manager, I am held accountable to getting as much feedback as possible. Who do you recommend I talk to so I can get to know Aldrin better?

Step Three: Decision Point

1. STOP if Aldrin is not a match, and exit with class.
   At this point in the relationship, show respect for the time and effort Aldrin has made and end the process in person, on the phone, or with a handwritten note.

   > The role we are offering would not make the most of your incredible talents. I have really enjoyed getting to know you and would like your permission to keep your information on file, so if we do have a position matching your profile and talent in the future, we can bring you back in. Thank you so much for your time, and I look forward to any future opportunities we may be able to share.

2. MOVE FORWARD if Aldrin is a match—conduct the defense

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Candidate's Reference List

1. Job References
	Name	Relationship	Approximate Date Worked With
	Telephone	E-mail Address
2. References from your Industry
	Name	Relationship	Approximate Date Worked With
	Telephone	E-mail Address
3. Personal References or References from your Customers
	Name	Relationship	Approximate Date Worked With
	Telephone	E-mail Address

Read this very carefully before signing your name!

Permission to Contact Your References

By signing below, I give Keller Williams Realty permission to contact all of the references that I listed plus any other people that my references suggest that you, Keller Williams Realty, contact.

_____ _____

Your Signature Date

Comments: _____ _____

_____

_____

_____

_____

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Reference Check Script Worksheet

Reference
Name: _____ Phone Number: _____ Level: ___

Introductory Script: Hello! My name is _____ from _____. We are speaking with _____ about a possible position as a _____. He/she has given us your name as a reference. May I take a few minutes of your time to ask you some questions?

1)	How is it that you know _____? Could you please describe your relationship with him/her?
2)	What do you feel _____'s strengths are? What is he/she really good at?
3)	What about weaknesses or opportunities for improvement?
4)	As _____'s consultant and mentor moving forward, I'd like to be effective in helping him/her grow. What are some of the areas that I could help him/her in terms of personal and professional growth?
5)	Describe _____ leadership skills. Do you feel he/she would be effective in a leadership role?

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Reference Name: _____ for _____

6)	(Note: This question is optional and should be used when there is a concern about a key characteristic from the KW Job Profile.) I need a person who demonstrates a high level of _____ (characteristic). To me this means _____ (definition). On a scale of 1 to 10, with 10 being extremely _____ (characteristic), how would you rate this candidate?
7)	Would you work with (or hire) _____ again? ☐ Yes. ☐ No. Why? / Why not?
8)	In your opinion, what type of work is he/she best suited for?
9)	What else would you like to tell me about _____ that we have not discussed yet?
10)	Who else do you know who has experience with _____ and can give us a different perspective? Do you happen to have their phone numbers?

Wrap-up

Thank you for your time! Hopefully we will be able to return the favor of your time!

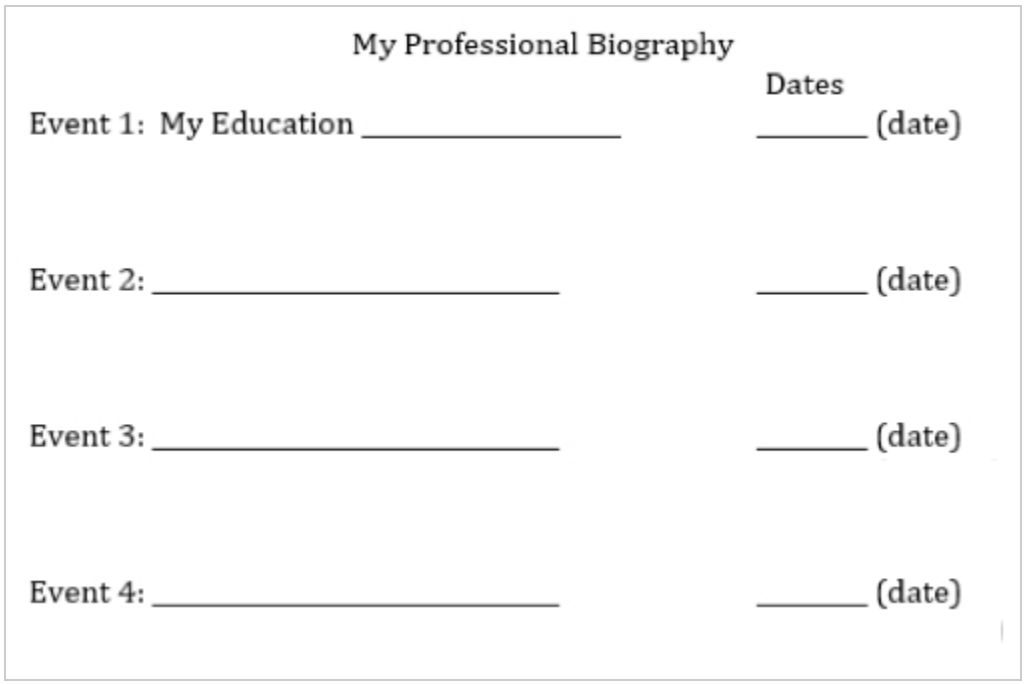

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

4: Life Story Interview

Step One: Prepare for the Life Story Interview

1. Gather several different colored markers and a flipchart.

2. Study the format

3. Check your mindset.

   - Stay objective
   - Remember: It is fine if Aldrin brings up personal information as he is interviewed, but you as the interviewer may not ASK about it.

Step Two: Conduct the Interview

1. Position the flip chart right so Aldrin is seated right in front. Stand next to the flip chart, so you can see Aldrin and write on the flip chart at the same time.

2. Using a black or blue marker, at the top of the flip chart, write “My Professional Biography,” and on the left side, write “Event 1: My Education.”

3. Draw a vertical line about three-fourths of the way across the page to divide right from left, and at the top of the right section of the page, write “Dates.”

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

4. Write the story of their professional journey.

> What we're going to do now is write your professional autobiography together, starting with the last time you were in school and moving forward. It's like your résumé, but we're going to go deeper than that. This is a chronological narrative of the defining events in your life. Inside each event, I'd like to know what you did, what happened, and what you learned.
>
> Let's start with the first event. When did you finish your education?
> (Write the answer under "Dates".)
>
> What happened?
> (Write the answer under "Event." You may switch colors for each line—it's easier to follow.)
>
> What were your "highs"?
> (Write the answers.)
>
> What disappointments did you have?
> (Write the answers.)
>
> Tell me about what you learned through this experience.
> (Write the answers.)
>
> Anything else you would like to add?
> If yes: (Add the information, then repeat the question until you get a no.)
>
> When no:
> Okay, when was the next major event in your life?
> (Write the answer next to "Event.")
> What was that?
> (Write the answer, for example, "My First Job" or "My Next Job.")

5. Follow the script and continue adding chapters, one at a time, picking up with the question "What happened?"—up to and including their current job or activity.

6. After you are finished, and just for fun, ask the candidate what title they would suggest for their professional biography.

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Step Three: Decision Point

1. STOP if Aldrin is not a match, and exit with class

   At this point in the relationship, show respect for the time and effort Aldrin has made and end the process in person, on the phone, or with a handwritten note.

   > The role we are offering would not make the most of your incredible talents. I have really enjoyed getting to know you and would like your permission to keep your information on file, so if we do have a position matching your profile and talent in the future, we can bring you back in. Thank you so much for your time, and I look forward to any future opportunities we may be able to share.

2. MOVE FORWARD if Aldrin is a match—segue into the Motivational Interview.

   > This has been great! Thank you for sharing! I am really enjoying learning more about you. Let's take a quick break and continue. (Offer a beverage and give Aldrin 5-10 minutes to relax.)

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

5: Motivational Interview

Step One: Prepare

1. Gather at least 4 different colored markers and a flipchart
2. Study the format

3. Have your Candidate Reference List ready
4. Check your mindset
   - Stay objective
   - Remember: It is fine if Aldrin brings up personal information as he is interviewed, but you as the interviewer may not ASK about it.

Step Two: Conduct the Interview

1. Position the flip chart so Aldrin is seated right in front. You stand next to the flip chart, so you can see Aldrin and write on the flipchart at the same time.
2. Start by drawing a vertical line down the center and a horizontal line across the middle, resulting in four squares on the flip chart. Ask him what his two biggest priorities are besides Job and Money, then enter those priorities in the headings for squares 3 and 4.
3. Together, you and Aldrin will fill in the details of motivation on the flip chart.

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

4. Capture their vision for the future

> I want you to pretend that you and I are sitting in this room five years from now, and I ask you how the past five years have been. You say, “Awesome!”
>
> Question 1
> What has to happen in the Job dimension of your life for you to be able to say “Awesome” five years from now?
> (Summarize his answer in that upper left square. If he has more than one answer, list each answer in bulleted format.)
>
> Question 2
> How do you envision that? What would it mean for that to happen?
> (For example: Aldrin may have said he/she wants to make a lot of money; you must find out exactly what a lot of money looks like to Aldrin. Using a different color marker, enter his answer in the same box.)
>
> Question 3
> Why would that achievement be important to you? How would that make you feel?
> (Using a different color marker, enter their answer in the same box.)
>
> Question 4
> What will having this do for you? What do you get? What impact would this have on you? Give me an example.
> (Using a different color marker, enter their answer in the same box.)

5. Repeat the above questions and process for each of the priorities in the other three squares (Money and the other two). You might also consider adding a fifth square, for which you ask him, “What else is important?” When done, step back and ask if there is anything he would like to add.

6. Review the chart with Aldrin. Circle words that stand out. Ask the Aldrin if these are the words that really motivate him.

7. Reflect with Aldrin whether it’s possible for him to achieve all the things that are important to him through this role, or if their priorities are in conflict. Explore with him whether this job would get him closer to the things he values most.

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Step Three: Decision Point

1. STOP if Aldrin is not a match, and exit with class.
   At this point in the relationship, show respect for the time and effort Aldrin has made and end the process in person, on the phone, or with a handwritten note.

   > The role we are offering would not make the most of your incredible talents. I have really enjoyed getting to know you and would like your permission to keep your information on file, so if we do have a position matching your profile and talent in the future, we can bring you back in. Thank you so much for your time, and I look forward to any future opportunities we may be able to share.

2. MOVE FORWARD if Aldrin is a match—check their references

   > Thank you so much for your time today! I've asked you a lot of questions and now I'd like to switch gears and share the opportunity we have to offer (share the company vision). Let me tell you the role I think you can play in this (speak to their motivations/goals. Be persuasive and energetic).
   >
   > I'd like to continue the process by checking your references—could you please fill out our reference check form, sign it, and send it back to me as soon as possible? Once I have checked your references, I'll be in touch.
   >
   > I'd also like you to meet with the team. This will give you all a chance to get to know each other. Please ask them any questions you have about the job.
   >
   > (If you are arranging lunch) _____ (name of social chair) will be in touch to make lunch plans.
   >
   > (If team is immediately available) They can meet with you now. Would like a cup of coffee/glass of water?

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

6: Group

Step One: Prepare for the Group Interview

1. Invite the team members the candidate will be working with.
2. Go over your expectations—what questions would you like them to ask?
3. Share the highlights and any concerns from your interviews.
4. Go over Aldrin's KPA - they can help you verify the profile.
5. Let them know this is not a democracy.

> This is not a vote. It is your opportunity to give your feedback on how well you think Aldrin will fit in with the team.

6. Check your mindset.
    - Make this the fun part!
      The Group Interview is not a serious grilling process, but rather an easygoing, casual, and friendly conversation between peers in a relaxed setting.

Step Two: Conduct the Group Interview

1. Designate the 'social chair'
    - You do not attend this interview!
    - Assign a person on your team who is friendly and sociable to spearhead this interview and be Aldrin's reference point.
2. When the group returns from lunch/coffee, meet with them to gather their observations.
    - Do they think Aldrin would be a good fit for the team? Yes No
    - Do they express any serious reservations? Yes No

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Step Three: Decision Point

1. STOP if Aldrin is not a match, and exit with class.

   At this point in the relationship, show respect for the time and effort Aldrin has made and end the process in person, on the phone, or with a handwritten note.

   > The role we are currently offering would not be the best match for your considerable talents. I have really enjoyed getting to know you and would like your permission to keep your information on file, so if we do have a position matching your profile and talent in the future, we can bring you back in. Thank you so much for your time, and I look forward to any future opportunities we may be able to share.

2. MOVE FORWARD if Aldrin is a match—check their references

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

7: Defense

Step One: Prepare for Defense

1. Share copies of all of the important documents you have collected.

    - The job profile and résumé
    - Notes from the screening phone call
    - Aldrin's KPA Job Fit Report and your notes from the Verification process, including Thought Process
    - Flip charts and notes from the Life Story and Motivational interviews
    - Notes from the Group interview and reference-check process

Step Two: Conduct the Defense

The committee reviews steps 1, 2, and 3 of the process and brainstorms several key questions to draw out the upside and downside of a potential hire.

Step One—Filter

1. Review the job profile and résumé.
    - Does Aldrin have the knowledge, skills, track record, and culture to get the job done? Where is Aldrin's match? Where is he a mismatch?
    - Is Aldrin Potential Talent, Emerging Talent, or Proven Talent?

Step Two—Interviews

1. Job Fit: did the verification confirm Aldrin's personality profile is a match?
2. Thought Process: does his thinking and culture make him a good fit for our organization? Will he stay?
3. Life Story: does Aldrin's track record show a pattern of success?
4. Motivation: will this role get him closer to achieving what he most values?

Step Three—Perspective

1. Did Aldrin fit in with the team?
2. Does his references—including the 3-deep references—confirm that he can do what he says he can?

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Brainstorm—With the team, think of every conceivable answer to these questions.

1. Can Aldrin be successful in this position? Why?

2. Imagine he fails in the first year. What might be the one thing that could have caused that, based on what you know about Aldrin? Can it be avoided?

3. Imagine Aldrin is succeeding, yet decides to leave. What was probably the one thing that drove his decision? Can it be avoided?

Step Three: Decision Point

1. STOP if Aldrin is not a match, and exit with class.

   At this point in the relationship, show respect for the time and effort Aldrin has made and end the process in person, on the phone, or with a handwritten note.

   > The role we are offering would not make the most of your incredible talents. I have really enjoyed getting to know you and would like your permission to keep your information on file, so if we do have a position matching your profile and talent in the future, we can bring you back in. Thank you so much for your time, and I look forward to any future opportunities we may be able to share.

2. MOVE FORWARD if Aldrin is a match—you are ready to make an offer!

   > Could you come back to meet with me _____ (date and time)? We'll need about an hour. Great! Thank you! Really looking forward to it!

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

8: Expectations and Offer

Step One: Prepare for Expectations Conversation

1. Review the expectations conversation and the topics you will be covering.

    - How candid you will be with each other when communicating honestly. This is a key to knowing how to communicate bad news.
    - What Aldrin's “hot buttons” are on the job—how you win or lose with him.
    - How to handle sensitive issues.
    - The job description—what Aldrin will actually be doing.
    - The standards Aldrin will have to meet—what level of quality and service is required.
    - How you will hold him accountable.

Step Two: Conduct the Expectations Conversation

1. As you ask each of the questions, note the answer given. As you share your expectations, record them as well.

2. You may enter your answers on the document prior to the meeting with Aldrin. If you do that, be sure to note any differences in the information you provide during the meeting on the form.

3. Give the completed form to Aldrin and have him initial and date each page before returning it to you.

Step Three: Decision Point

1. It is unlikely that you or Aldrin will opt out of going into business together at this stage of the process, but do not rule it out as an option. If the expectations conversation is not mutually satisfactory, it is not too late to hit the eject button!

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Expectations Conversation

1. Honesty Expectations

- On a scale of 1–10, with 10 being completely candid, how honest do you want me to be with you _____?

- What does that mean to you? Give me an example of when someone was that honest with you?

- On a scale of 1–10, I (employer) want you to be honest with me at a level of _____.

- What that means to me is:

Manager _____ Date _____

Position _____ Employee Signature _____

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Expectations Conversation

2. Win/Lose Expectations

- How does somebody win with you?

- Here is how someone wins with me.

- How does somebody lose with you?

- Here is how somebody loses with me.

Manager _____ Date _____

Position _____ Employee Signature _____

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Expectations Conversation

3. Sensitive Issue Expectations

- If a sensitive issue should arise, how would you like me to address it with you?

- This is how I would like you to address sensitive issues with me.

4. Job Description Expectations

Provide the candidate a copy of the job description. Review the job description with the candidate.

- What excites you the most?

- Do you have any thoughts/concerns?

Manager _____ Date _____

Position _____ Employee Signature _____

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Expectations Conversation

5. Job Standards Expectations

- Here are the standards you must meet in performing your job.

- What are your thoughts and/or concerns?

6. Accountability Expectations

- Accountability is a very important aspect of working here. Here is how you'll be held accountable and why:

- What are your thoughts and/or concerns?

Manager _____ Date _____

Position _____ Employee Signature _____

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Offer

Step One: Prepare for the Offer

1. Customize the offer letter and Orientation to Aldrin.

2. Check your Mindset!

    - This is the first step of your future employer-employee relationship; set the tone by making a positive impact.

Step Two: Conduct the Offer

1. Be enthusiastic and convey your excitement to Aldrin!

    - How many candidates did Aldrin beat out? Tell him!
    - Describe what accomplishments really stood out and the impact you know he will make on your company.
    - Tell Aldrin how impressed his future colleagues are and how excited they are to be working together.

2. Use the offer letter (following pages) to thoroughly explain the pay and benefits, as well as assuming his buy-in with the orientation schedule.

3. Get whatever commitment you can. Most candidates want time to consider the offer, but go ahead and ask Aldrin what they think of the offer and tune into any hesitations you sense—you may be able to provide him with more information to influence his decision.

Step Three: Decision Point

1. It is unlikely that you or Aldrin will opt out of going into business together at this stage of the process, but do not rule it out as an option. If the offer is not mutually satisfactory, it is not too late to hit the eject button!

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Offer Letter

Warning: Before using this letter, be sure you have your attorney review it for issues that are state specific.

(DATE)

(CANDIDATE NAME AND ADDRESS)

Dear (FIRST NAME),

We are pleased to extend to you an offer of employment at (COMPANY) as a (POSITION). The terms of employment, commencing on or before (START DATE), will be as follows:

Compensation:

You will receive a/an (SALARY TIME PERIOD) salary of $(AMOUNT) to be paid (PAY PERIOD), subject to any and all necessary withholding and deductions for income taxes, FICA, Social Security, and similar items.

Benefits:

(COMPANY) offers a variety of benefits, including (BENEFITS LIST). Please refer to benefits documentation for specific details of the plans. You will receive your benefits package (BENEFITS PACKET RECEIVED DATE). Benefits are effective (WHEN BENEFITS START).

(STATE – DELETE IF PARAGRAPH DOESN'T APPLY) is an "At Will" employment state. Accordingly, your employment with (COMPANY) will be "at will," and can be terminated by you or by (COMPANY) at any time, with or without cause or advance notice. By accepting this job offer, you agree that no contrary representation has been made to you.

In no event shall your employment be construed as a contractual relationship between (COMPANY) and you, or guaranteeing employment for any specific period of time. In the event the employee decides to terminate the employment relationship, the company would appreciate 2 weeks written notice.

If you are in agreement with the above-mentioned terms, please confirm your agreement as soon as possible by signing the enclosed copy of this letter and returning it to us at your earliest convenience.

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Orientation Schedule

If you choose to accept the position, (COMPANY) will be conducting an Employee Welcome and Orientation on your first day of employment. During the orientation, you will be introduced to the company systems and you will complete your payroll, benefits, and federally required employment paperwork.

The Orientation and Enrollment meetings have been scheduled for the following dates and times:

- Employee Welcome
  8:15 a.m. on (START DATE) with (CONTACT)
- New Employee Orientation
  8:30 a.m. on (START DATE) with (CONTACT)
- Post-Offer Drug Test
  You will be sent to the appropriate off-site location

(COMPANY) is required by federal law to verify your eligibility to work in the United States. It is critical that you bring the items, listed below, to the orientation meeting. Without them, we will be unable to process a paycheck for you or enroll you, or your dependents, in our benefits plan.

- You will need form(s) of personal identification to complete your I-9 Form. Typically employees may bring their Social Security card and driver's license or your passport. Please see the attached list for acceptable documents.
- If you would like to take advantage of direct deposit, please bring a copy of a voided check for the banking account(s) involved.
- You will also need the birth dates and Social Security numbers of your family members if you plan to enroll them in the group health insurance or life insurance plans.

We are all excited at the prospect of your joining us here at (COMPANY), and believe that the confidence we have in your ability will be more than justified by your contributions in the years ahead.

Sincerely,

(PERSON MAKING OFFER)

(PERSON'S TITLE)

(COMPANY)

Accepted by:

_____ _____

Applicant Date

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved