Introduction

Where Opportunity Meets Talent

The TTI Success Insights® Talent Insights Report was designed to increase the understanding of an individual's talents. The report provides insight into three distinct areas: behaviors, motivators, and their integration. Understanding strengths and weaknesses in these areas will lead to personal and professional development and a higher level of satisfaction.

The following is an in-depth look at your personal talents in the three main sections:

Behaviors

This section of the report is designed to help you attain a greater knowledge of yourself as well as others. The ability to interact effectively with people may be the difference between success and failure in your work and personal life. Effective interaction starts with an accurate perception of oneself.

Motivators

This section of the report provides information on the why of your actions, which with application and coaching, can tremendously impact your valuing of life. Once you know the motivations that drive your actions, you will immediately be able to understand the causes of conflict.

Integrating Behaviors and Motivators

This section of the report will help you blend the how and the why of your actions. Once you can understand how your behaviors and motivators blend together, your performance will be enhanced and you will experience an increase in satisfaction.

Introduction

Behaviors

Behavioral research suggests that the most effective people are those who understand their strengths and weaknesses, because they can best develop strategies to meet the demands of their environment.

A person's behavior is a necessary and integral part of who they are. In other words, much of our behavior comes from "nature" (inherent), and much comes from "nurture" (our upbringing). It is the universal language of "how we act," or our observable human behavior.

In this report we are measuring four dimensions of normal behavior. They are:

- How you respond to problems and challenges.
- How you influence others to your point of view.
- How you respond to the pace of the environment.
- How you respond to rules and procedures set by others.

This report analyzes behavioral style; that is, a person's manner of doing things. Is the report 100% true? Yes, no, and maybe. We are only measuring behavior. We only report statements which are true and areas of behavior in which tendencies are shown. Feel free to delete any statement from the report that may not apply, but only after checking with friends or colleagues to see if they agree.

All people exhibit all four behavioral factors to varying degrees of intensity.

Behavioral Characteristics

Based on Brillian's responses, the report has selected general statements to provide a broad understanding of their work style. These statements identify the basic natural behavior that they bring to the job. That is, if left on their own, these statements identify HOW THEY WOULD CHOOSE TO DO THE JOB. Use the general characteristics to gain a better understanding of Brillian's natural behavior.

Brillian can be open, patient, and tolerant of differences. Their natural quality of being nonjudgmental is a great strength. Because they are receptive and listen well, they excel at gathering information. Others see them as a good neighbor, since they are always willing to help those they consider to be their friends. Brillian's flexibility will allow them to fit into almost any environment. They are good at maintaining relationships, both on and off the job. They manifest a caring and warm demeanor to the people in their life. When challenged, they become more objective. Patience, control, and deliberateness characterize their usual behavior. When the time is right, Brillian can stand up aggressively for what they believe. They like to develop a routine in both their personal and professional life and will function best when this routine is maintained. Brillian wins through hard work and persistence. They like to focus on one task until it is completed. They require many good reasons, as well as the benefits involved, before agreeing to making changes.

Brillian is persistent and persevering in their approach to achieving goals. Occasionally they will underplay bad news if telling it as it is will offend someone. They may fear it would disturb the relationship. They try to use balanced judgment. They are the person who brings stability to the entire team. They can be sensitive to the feelings of others and are able to display real empathy for those who are experiencing difficulties. Brillian may want to think over major decisions before acting. They must be convinced that actions will produce the desired result. They may tend to fight for their beliefs or those things they feel passionate about. Once they have arrived at a decision, they can be tough-minded and unbending. They have made their decision after gathering much data, and they probably won't want to repeat the process. Making plans and following those plans is important to them.

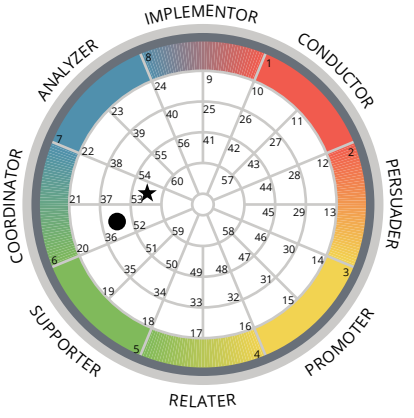

Brillian is not easily triggered or explosive, but they may conceal some grievances because they don't always state their feelings. They are quick to pick up on group dynamics and skilled in fitting in with a group. They bring both speaking and listening skills to the group. They will be open with those they trust; however, reaching the required level of trust may take time. They usually are considerate, compassionate and accepting of others; however, on some occasions they can become stubborn. Stubbornness surfaces when their ideals and beliefs are confronted. Brillian likes a friendly, open style of communication. They do not enjoy confrontation for confrontation's sake. They feel they can win through patience and resolve. They like to know what is expected of them in a working relationship and to have the duties and responsibilities of others who will be involved explained. Communication is accomplished best by well-defined avenues.

Behavioral Characteristics

Value to the Organization

This section of the report identifies the specific talents and behavior Brillian brings to the job. By looking at these statements, one can identify their role in the organization. The organization can then develop a system to capitalize on their particular value, making them an integral part of the team.

1. Flexible.
2. Patient and empathetic.
3. Adaptable.
4. Turns confrontation into positives.
5. Works for a leader and a cause.
6. Has respect for authority and organizational structure.
7. Builds good relationships.
8. Good at reconciling factions—is calming and adds stability.

Checklist for Communicating

Continued

This section of the report is a list of things NOT to do while communicating with Brillian. Review each statement with Brillian and identify those methods of communication that result in frustration or reduced performance. By sharing this information, both parties can negotiate a communication system that is mutually agreeable.

Ways NOT to Communicate

1. Offer assurance and guarantees you can't fulfill.
2. Push too hard or be unrealistic with deadlines.
3. Be domineering or demanding; don't threaten with a position of power.
4. Give your presentation in a random order.
5. Patronize or demean them by using subtlety or incentive.
6. Be haphazard.
7. Debate about facts and figures.
8. Make promises you cannot deliver.
9. Rush them in the decision-making process.
10. Talk in a loud voice or use confrontation.
11. Be abrupt and rapid.

Communication Tips

This section provides suggestions for methods which will improve Brillian's communications with others. The tips include a brief description of typical people with whom they may interact. By adapting to the communication style desired by other people, Brillian will become more effective in their communications with them. They may have to practice some flexibility in varying their communication style with others who may be different from Brillian. This flexibility and the ability to interpret the needs of others is the mark of a superior communicator.

Compliance

When communicating with a person who is dependent, neat, conservative, perfectionist, careful, and compliant:

- ✔ Prepare your "case" in advance.
- ✔ Stick to business.
- ✔ Be accurate and realistic.
- ⊘ Being giddy, casual, informal, or loud.
- ⊘ Pushing too hard or being unrealistic with deadlines.
- ⊘ Being disorganized or messy.

Dominance

When communicating with a person who is ambitious, forceful, decisive, strong-willed, independent, and goal-oriented:

- ✔ Be clear, specific, brief, and to the point.
- ✔ Stick to business.
- ✔ Be prepared with support material in a well-organized "package."
- ⊘ Talking about things that are not relevant to the issue.
- ⊘ Leaving loopholes or cloudy issues.
- ⊘ Appearing disorganized.

Steadiness

When communicating with a person who is patient, predictable, reliable, steady, relaxed, and modest:

- ✔ Begin with a personal comment—break the ice.
- ✔ Present your case softly, non-threateningly.
- ✔ Ask "how?" questions to draw their opinions.
- ⊘ Rushing headlong into business.
- ⊘ Being domineering or demanding.
- ⊘ Forcing them to respond quickly to your objectives.

Influence

When communicating with a person who is magnetic, enthusiastic, friendly, demonstrative, and political:

- ✔ Provide a warm and friendly environment.
- ✔ Don't deal with a lot of details (put them in writing).
- ✔ Ask "feeling" questions to draw their opinions or comments.
- ⊘ Being curt, cold, or tight-lipped.
- ⊘ Controlling the conversation.
- ⊘ Driving on facts and figures or alternatives and abstractions.

Perceptions

See Yourself As Others See You

A person's behavior and feelings may be quickly telegraphed to others. This section provides additional information on Brillian's self-perception and how, under certain conditions, others may perceive Brillian's behavior. Understanding this section will empower Brillian to project the image that will allow them to control the situation.

Brillian usually sees themself as being:

- ✔ Considerate
- ✔ Thoughtful
- ✔ Good-natured
- ✔ Dependable
- ✔ Team Player
- ✔ Good Listener

Under moderate pressure, tension, stress, or fatigue, others may see them as being:

- ✔ Nondemonstrative
- ✔ Hesitant
- ✔ Unconcerned
- ✔ Inflexible

Under extreme pressure, stress, or fatigue, others may see them as being:

- ✔ Possessive
- ✔ Stubborn
- ✔ Detached
- ✔ Insensitive

The Absence of a Behavioral Factor

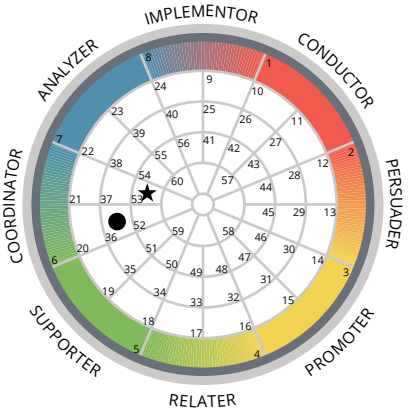

The absence of a behavioral factor may provide insight into situations or environments that may cause tension or stress. Based on research, we are able to identify situations that should be avoided or minimized in a person's day-to-day environment. By understanding the contribution of a low behavioral style, we are able to better articulate a person's talents and create environments where people can be more effective.

Situations and circumstances to avoid or aspects needed within the environment in order to minimize behavioral stress.

- Needs meeting and planning sessions with pre-disclosed agenda items in order to feel prepared.
- Avoid situations where competition is a primary factor.
- Avoid environments that focus on constant innovation.

Understanding that the need to adapt is unavoidable at times. Below are tips for adapting to those with D above the energy line and/or tips for seeking environments that will be conducive to the low D.

- Seek partnership when forced to make decisions that do not have a procedure or set precedence.
- Seek an environment that allows for a humorous approach to conflict situations.
- Focus on one task at a time to assure quality in problem solving.

Natural & Adapted Style

Brillian's natural style of dealing with problems, people, pace of events, and procedures may not always fit what the environment needs. This section will provide valuable information related to stress and the pressure to adapt to the environment.

Problems & Challenges

Natural

Brillian is cautious in their approach to problem solving and does not attempt to demand that their view, or opinion, be accepted at face value. Brillian likes to solve problems within the framework of a team environment. They will look for a compromise as opposed to a win-lose situation.

Adapted

Brillian sees no need to change their approach to solving problems or dealing with challenges in their present environment.

People & Contacts

Natural

Brillian is sociable and optimistic. They are able to use an emotional appeal to convince others of a certain direction. They like to be on a team and may be the spokesman for the team. They will trust others and like a positive environment in which to relate.

Adapted

Brillian sees no need to change their approach to influencing others to their way of thinking. They see their natural style to be what the environment is calling for.

Copyright © 1984-2026. TTI Success Insights LTD.

Natural & Adapted Style

Pace & Consistency

Natural	Adapted
Brillian is comfortable in an environment in which there is a relaxed demeanor or one in which patience is looked at as a virtue. They prefer to complete one task before starting the next and prefer an environment that is predictable.	Brillian sees their natural activity style to be just what the environment needs. What you see is what you get for activity level and consistency.

Procedures & Constraints

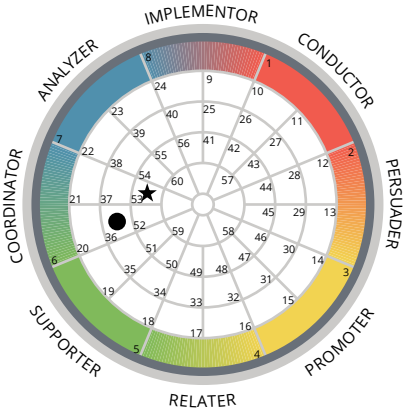

Natural	Adapted
Brillian is somewhat open-minded, but aware and sensitive to the implications of not following the rules. They can display balanced judgment in reviewing procedures. Knowing they are doing things well is a key reinforcement for them.	Brillian shows little discomfort when comparing their basic (natural) style to their response to the environment (adapted) style. The difference is not significant, and Brillian sees little or no need to change their response to the environment.

Copyright © 1984-2026. TTI Success Insights LTD.

Adapted Style

Brillian sees their present work environment requiring them to exhibit the behavior listed on this page. If the following statements DO NOT sound job related, explore the reasons why they are adapting this behavior.

1. Precedence of quality over efficiency.
2. Precise, analytical approach to work tasks.
3. Presenting a practical, proven approach to decision making.
4. Compliance to high standards.
5. Critical appraisal of data.
6. Being conservative, not competitive, in nature.
7. Using restraint when confrontation occurs.
8. Sensitivity to existing rules and regulations.
9. Calculation of risks before taking action.
10. Careful, thoughtful approach to decision making.
11. Being cordial and helpful when dealing with new clients or customers.
12. Being cooperative and supportive.
13. Undemanding of others' time and attention.

Time Wasters

This section of your report is designed to identify time wasters that may impact your overall time use effectiveness. Possible causes and solutions will serve as a basis for creating an effective plan for maximizing your use of TIME and increasing your PERFORMANCE.

Failure To Clarify Precise Responsibilities With Manager

The failure to clarify precise responsibilities with your manager assumes that you have a full understanding of his/her expectations. It infers that your manager understands your job and concurs with your assessment of requirements.

Possible Causes:

1. Unsure of how you will be perceived
2. Don't want to overstep authority
3. Want to be a team player
4. Want to help everyone so you don't object to the manager when requests are being made that are not your responsibility

Possible Solutions:

1. Have informal conversations with the manager about his/her expectations
2. Share with manager your expectations
3. Clarify with peers and other managers your duties and responsibilities
4. Read and discuss articles on "management by objectives"

Postpone The Unpleasant

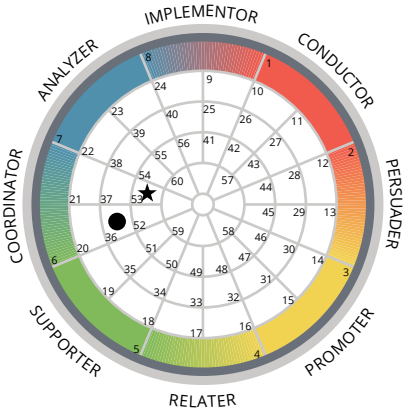

Postponing the unpleasant is similar to procrastinating but is usually a continual reprioritizing of daily tasks. It is often a way to delay something that is not enjoyable.

Possible Causes:

1. Like low-conflict environments and relationships
2. Want to feel the success of accomplishment so the simple tasks are done first

Possible Solutions:

1. Change your routine and, for one week, do the unpleasant tasks first

Copyright © 1984-2026. TTI Success Insights LTD.

Time Wasters

Continued

2. See the accomplishment of unpleasant tasks as an equal or even greater achievement of success
3. Reward yourself for every unpleasant task that you complete without postponing
4. Confront those people who are causing you discomfort and discuss the problems

Resisting Change

Resisting change is the process of consciously or subconsciously not participating in the change process. Measures of resistance may be active or passive, not doing things the new way, or making excuses for not having tasks accomplished.

Possible Causes:

1. Need a high degree of security
2. Like to maintain the status quo
3. Routine/procedures have worked in the past
4. One specific aspect of a proposed change violates sense of values
5. A specific change is not seen as contributing to successful accomplishments

Possible Solutions:

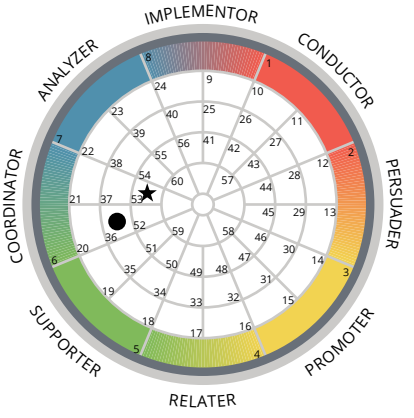

1. Acknowledge that change is a natural part of any job
2. Develop the habit of writing down all of the pros and cons of a specific change
3. Evaluate each objection to a change
4. If there is one specific objection that is overriding the ability to change, share the specific concern with those involved and seek advice or input from others

Not Exercising Authority

Not exercising authority is the inability to make decisions that might adversely impact some people and compromises the success of task accomplishment. It is also the resistance to making the tough calls.

Possible Causes:

1. Want to be seen as supportive
2. Believe people will do what is right

Copyright © 1984-2026. TTI Success Insights LTD.

Time Wasters

Continued

3. Fear offending others
4. Fear creating conflict between team members

Possible Solutions:

1. Have clearly defined and written performance objectives
2. Have clearly written rationale for specific decisions
3. Assign decision reporting to the deputy/assistant
4. Appoint a strong deputy or assistant
5. Have a "Good Guy/Bad Guy" image agreement with deputy/assistant

Habits

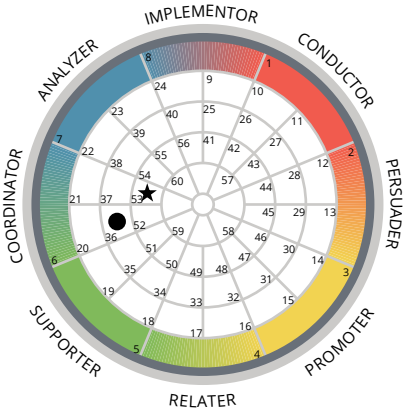

A habit is a specific thought, behavior or way of doing something that was acquired by repetition or by reinforcement from self and/or others.

Possible Causes:

1. Have established routines that are comfortable
2. Routine creates a feeling of security
3. Resist change for change's sake
4. Have been praised repeatedly for a specific behavior

Possible Solutions:

1. Evaluate habits and decide which contribute to your accomplishments and which deter you from success
2. Try new ways of performing a certain task
3. Ask others for recommendations on different approaches
4. Consciously practice changing your routine

Areas for Improvement

In this area is a listing of possible limitations without regard to a specific job. Review with Brillian and cross out those limitations that do not apply. Highlight 1 to 3 limitations that are hindering their performance and develop an action plan to eliminate or reduce this hindrance.

Brillian has a tendency to:

1. Not projecting a sense of urgency—others may not feel the pressure to help immediately.
2. Underestimate their abilities.
3. Be defensive when risk is involved—move towards maintaining status quo.
4. Be too conservative—bides time and avoids much that is new.
5. Take criticism of their work as a personal affront.
6. Be dependent on others for decisions, even if they know they are right.
7. Avoid accountability by overstating the complexity of the situation.
8. Have difficulty establishing priorities. They have a tendency to make all things a number one priority—may have trouble meeting deadlines.

The TTI Success Insights® Wheel

The TTI Success Insights® Wheel is a powerful tool first popularized in Europe. In addition to the text you have received about your behavioral style, the Wheel adds a visual representation that allows you to:

- View your natural behavioral style (circle).
- View your adapted behavioral style (star).
- Note the degree to which you are adapting your behavior.

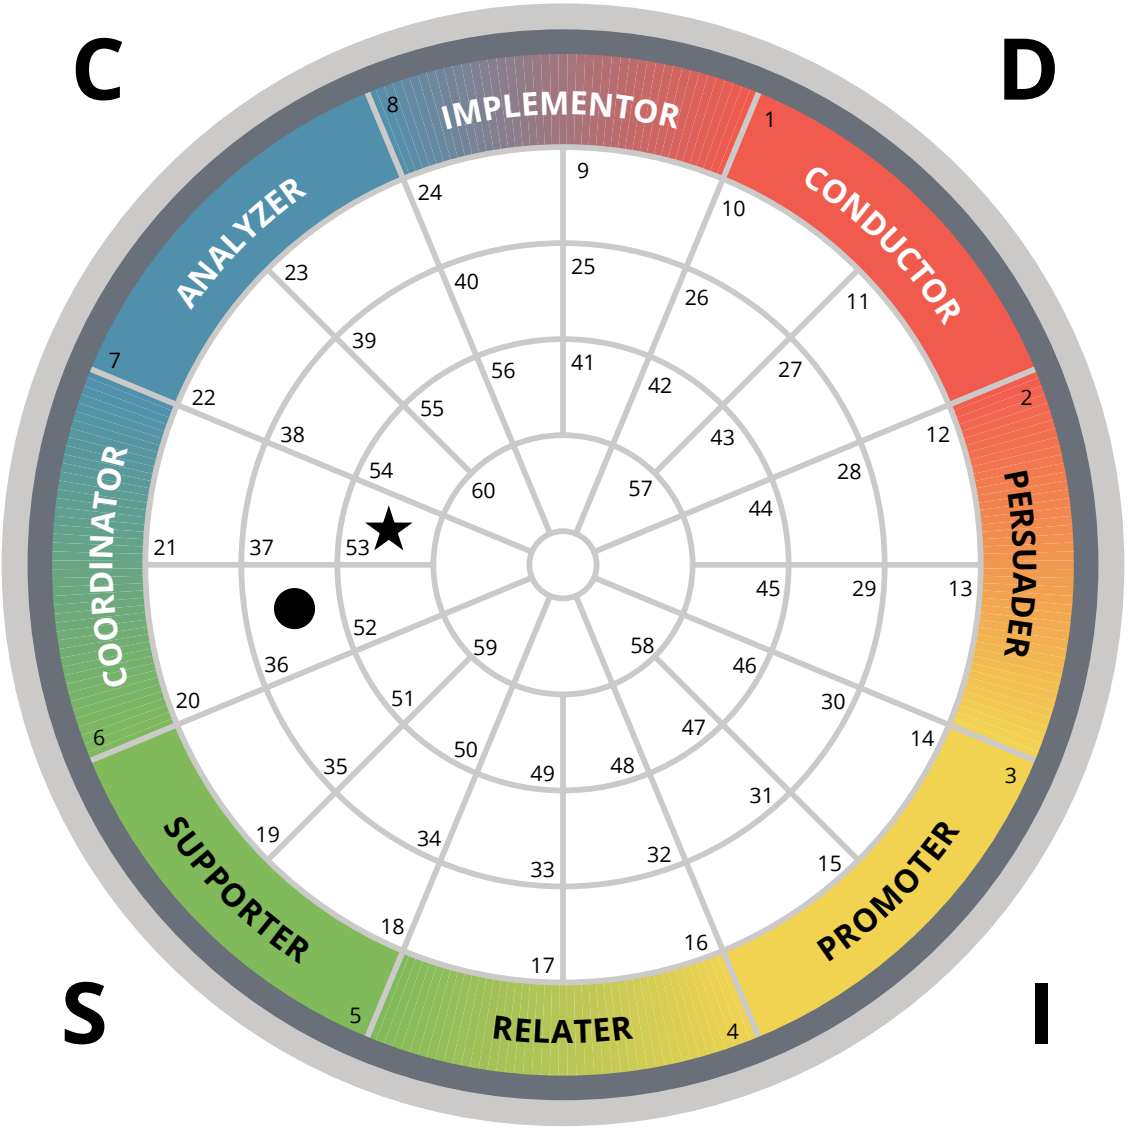

Notice on the next page that your Natural style (circle) and your Adapted style (star) are plotted on the Wheel. If they are plotted in different boxes, then you are adapting your behavior. The further the two plotting points are from each other, the more you are adapting your behavior.

If you are part of a group or team who also took the behavioral assessment, it would be advantageous to get together, using each person's Wheel, and make a master Wheel that contains each person's Natural and Adapted style. This allows you to quickly see where conflict can occur. You will also be able to identify where communication, understanding, and appreciation can be increased.

Introduction

Motivators

Knowledge of an individual's motivators help to tell us WHY they do things. A review of an individual's experiences, references, education, and training help to tell us WHAT they can do. Behavioral assessments help to tell us HOW a person behaves and performs in the work environment. The Personal Motivators & Engagement report measures the relative prominence of six basic interests or motivators (a way of valuing life): Theoretical, Utilitarian, Aesthetic, Social, Individualistic, and Traditional.

Motivators help to initiate one's behavior and are sometimes called the hidden motivators because they are not always readily observed. It is the purpose of this report to help illuminate and amplify some of those motivating factors and to build on the strengths that each person brings to the work environment.

Based on your choices, this report ranks your relative passion for each of the six motivators. Your top two and sometimes three motivators cause you to move into action. You will feel positive when talking, listening or doing activities that satisfy your top motivators.

The feedback you will receive in this section will reflect one of three intensity levels for each of the six motivators.

- Strong - positive feelings that you need to satisfy either on or off the job.
- Situational - where your feelings will range from positive to indifferent based on other priorities in your life at the time. These motivators tend to become more important as your top motivators are satisfied.
- Indifferent - your feelings will be indifferent when related to your 5th or 6th motivator.

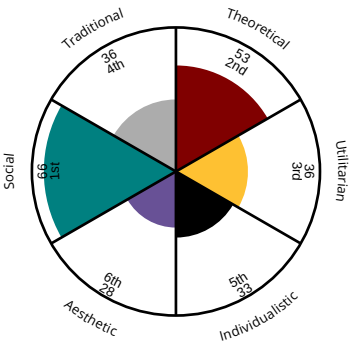

Your Personal Motivators Ranking
1st	Social	Strong
2nd	Theoretical	Strong
3rd	Utilitarian	Situational
4th	Traditional	Situational
5th	Individualistic	Indifferent
6th	Aesthetic	Indifferent

Copyright © 1990-2026. TTI Success Insights LTD.

Social

Those who score very high for this motivator have an inherent love of people. The social person prizes other people and is, therefore, kind, sympathetic and unselfish. They are likely to find the Theoretical, Utilitarian and Aesthetic attitudes cold and inhuman. Compared to the Individualistic motivator, the Social person regards helping others as the only suitable form for human relationships. Research indicates that in its purest form, the Social interest is selfless.

1. They want to promote a doctrine of fairness with regard to rules that regulate people.
2. Brillian has the ability to be empathetic toward those who are hurting.
3. They may sacrifice bottom-line profit when the decision may be detrimental to the people involved.
4. Eliminating hate and conflict in the world is one of Brillian's passions.
5. Brillian will have causes that cannot be won, satisfying their inner need for peace. Even if the cause cannot be won, they will still be compelled to try.
6. If they think it will harm the relationship, Brillian will avoid confrontation.
7. In business, they want everyone to receive the most value money can buy.
8. They have the ability to instinctively notice and respond to people in need.
9. Looking for the positive in a situation energizes them to solve problems that people are experiencing.
10. Brillian will blame the system more than the individual and will work diligently to change the system.

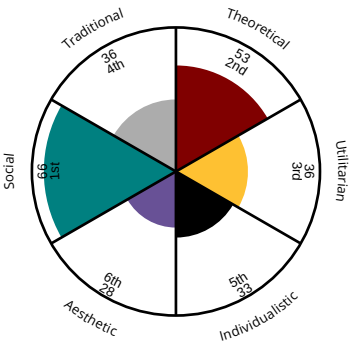

Copyright © 1990-2026. TTI Success Insights LTD.

Theoretical

The primary drive with this motivator is the discovery of TRUTH. In pursuit of this drive, an individual takes a "cognitive" attitude. Such an individual is nonjudgmental regarding the beauty or utility of objects and seeks only to observe and to reason. Since the interests of the theoretical person are empirical, critical and rational, the person appears to be an intellectual. The chief aim in life is to order and systematize knowledge: knowledge for the sake of knowledge.

1. They will usually have the data to support their convictions.
2. Brillian is very good at integrating past knowledge to solve present problems.
3. Brillian is comfortable around people who share their interest for knowledge and especially those people with similar convictions.
4. They may have difficulty putting down a good book.
5. Brillian has the potential to become an expert in their chosen field.
6. A comfortable job for Brillian is one that challenges their knowledge.

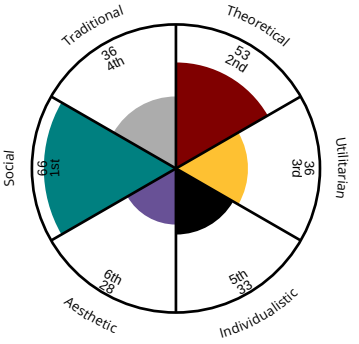

Copyright © 1990-2026. TTI Success Insights LTD.

Utilitarian

The Utilitarian score shows a characteristic interest in money and what is useful. This means that an individual wants to have the security that money brings not only for themselves but for their present and future family. This motivator includes the practical affairs of the business world — the production, marketing and consumption of goods, the use of credit and the accumulation of tangible wealth. This type of individual is thoroughly practical and conforms well to the stereotype of the average business person. A person with a high score is likely to have a high need to surpass others in wealth.

1. They will evaluate some decisions but not necessarily all based on their utility and economic return.
2. Brillian can give freely of time and resources to certain causes and feel this investment will result in a future return on their investment.
3. Money itself is not as important as what it will buy.
4. They will use wealth as a yardstick to measure their work effort with certain activities.
5. Brillian will not alter their lifestyle in order to acquire something unless there is an immediate need (or the situation is critical).
6. Brillian will become money-motivated when they want to satisfy one of the other motivators mentioned in this report.

Traditional

The highest interest for this motivator may be called "unity," "order," or "tradition." Individuals with high scores for this motivator seek a system for living. This system can be found in such things as conservatism or any authority that has defined rules, regulations and principles for living.

1. They will have strong beliefs within a system that they feel most comfortable with, and they will not be as strong in their beliefs or approach if they lack that interest level.
2. Brillian at times will evaluate others based on their rules for living.
3. Brillian needs to be able to pick and choose the traditions and set of beliefs to which they will adhere.
4. Brillian lets their conscience be their guide.

Individualistic

The primary interest for this motivator is POWER, not necessarily politics. Research studies indicate that leaders in most fields have a high power drive. Since competition and struggle play a large part in all areas of life, many philosophers have seen power as the most universal and most fundamental of motives. There are, however, certain personalities in whom the desire for direct expression of this motive is uppermost; who wish, above all, for personal power, influence and renown.

1. Brillian's passion in life will be found in one or two of the other dimensions discussed in this report.
2. They will not attempt to overpower others' points of view or change their thinking.
3. Stability is a primary concern. Patience and fortitude will win in the long run.
4. Brillian will be less concerned about their ego than others may be.
5. Brillian feels that struggles should be the burden of the team, not just the individuals.
6. As long as Brillian's belief systems are not threatened, they will allow others to set the tone and direction of their work.
7. Being in total control of a situation is not a primary motivating factor.

Aesthetic

A higher Aesthetic score indicates a relative interest in "form and harmony." Each experience is judged from the standpoint of grace, symmetry or fitness. Life may be regarded as a procession of events, and each is enjoyed for its own sake. A high score here does not necessarily mean that the incumbent has talents in creative artistry. It indicates a primary interest in the artistic episodes of life.

1. Intellectually, Brillian can see the need for beauty but has difficulty buying the finer things in life.
2. Brillian is not necessarily worried about form and beauty in their environment.
3. Unpleasant surroundings will not stifle their creativity.
4. The utility of "something" is more important than its beauty, form and harmony.
5. They are a very practical person who is not sensitive to being in harmony with their surroundings.
6. Brillian's passion in life will be found in one or two of the other motivators discussed in this report.
7. They want to take a practical approach to events.

NAVIGATING SITUATIONS OUTSIDE OF YOUR COMFORT ZONE

The information on this page will highlight areas in which you may struggle relating to based on your lowest motivator. The information will teach you how to manage your way through discussions focusing on your number six motivator.

Tips for Communicating with "High Aesthetic" utilizing your Social.

As you read through the communication tips, think about the following questions:

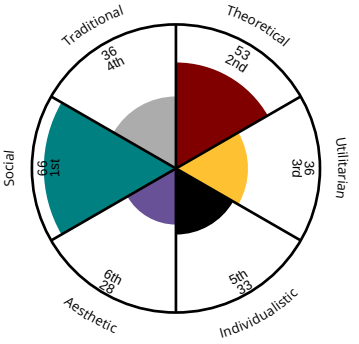

1. How does the mindset of a high Aesthetic contribute to today's workforce?
2. How do Aesthetics contribute to the world, your professional life, and your personal life?

A person with a high Aesthetic is interested in studying and appreciating the totality of a situation.

- Allowing the time for the high Aesthetic to understand the entire situation before trying to make them an advocate will ensure their partnership in helping people as it relates to keeping the balance of the organization.
- Collaborate with high Aesthetics to get initiatives approved as they will ground the efforts in ways that prove these actions add to the overall harmony and balance of the organization.

A person with a high Aesthetic will have a strong interest in preserving the balance and harmony of the organization.

- Seek information from the high Aesthetic as to how the desire to save a person or two is impacting the health of the entire organization. Too much focus on one unhappy person can disrupt the productivity of the entire team. Ask feeling-related questions and understand the perspective they bring.
- Collaborate with individuals that are strong in Aesthetic to move a cause forward. They will be able to sense where the challenges are and how the challenges affect the big picture. Ask questions like, "Where do you feel an imbalance?" and "How can I help you to achieve balance in these areas?"

NAVIGATING SITUATIONS OUTSIDE OF YOUR COMFORT ZONE

A person with a high Aesthetic is in tune with their inner feelings and likes surroundings that compliment these feelings.

- Recognize the allowance of self expression can be therapeutic for people going through a hard time. Partner with the Aesthetic to make a warm and inviting atmosphere where people feel safe.
- Ask questions of the Aesthetic as to how the surroundings and overall work environment can be improved in a way that benefits the people of the organization. Understand the Aesthetic is about harmony and balance of the world, which will in turn help the people in it.

Form and harmony are key in providing a high Aesthetic with an experience to remember.

- Helping people is a passion and the Aesthetic's passion is about creating a positive experience. How can a partnership help more people while creating an experience for the participants that will be memorable and appreciated?
- The Aesthetic's desire to improve the experience and the desire to help people can work together to decrease the stress individuals experience within the organization. This will achieve the goals of both parties and better the organization as a whole.

Motivators - Norms & Comparisons

For years you have heard statements like, "Different strokes for different folks," "to each his own," and "people do things for their own reasons, not yours." When you are surrounded by people who share similar motivators, you will fit in with the group and be energized. However, when surrounded by people whose motivators are significantly different from yours, you may be perceived as out of the mainstream. These differences can induce stress or conflict. When confronted with this type of situation you can:

- Change the situation.
- Change your perception of the situation.
- Leave the situation.
- Cope with the situation.

This section reveals areas where your motivators may be outside the mainstream and could lead to conflict. The further away you are from the mainstream on the high side, the more people will notice your passion about that motivator. The further away from the mainstream on the low side, the more people will view you as indifferent and possibly negative about that motivator. The shaded area for each motivator represents 68 percent of the population or scores that fall within one standard deviation above or below the national mean.

Ideal Environment

This section identifies the ideal work environment based on Brillian's basic style and top two motivators. People with limited flexibility will find themselves uncomfortable working in any job not described in this section. People with flexibility use intelligence to modify their behavior and can be comfortable in many environments. Use this section to identify specific duties and responsibilities that Brillian enjoys and also those that create frustration.

1. A stable and predictable environment.
2. An environment that allows time to change.
3. Needs an opportunity to deal with people with whom a long-standing relationship has been established.
4. An environment where being prepared for meetings is rewarded.
5. Appreciation for the process of gathering data in order to avoid mistakes.
6. Information to support the reasons for change.
7. Ability to give time, talent, and resources in order to help the organization.
8. An opportunity to help others without being in the limelight.
9. Provide functional and useful ways to help others achieve and win.

Keys To Motivating

This section of the report was produced by analyzing Brillian's wants. People are motivated by the things they want; thus wants that are satisfied no longer motivate. Review each statement produced in this section with Brillian and highlight those that are present "wants."

Brillian wants:

1. To be recognized for their continuance of quality work.
2. A predictable work environment.
3. Identification with fellow workers.
4. Background and detailed information on processes and procedures in order to ensure they are correct.
5. To be on the team that creates new procedures in order to ensure minimal risk and high standards.
6. The time to research and structure information in a methodical way.
7. Time to give back both internally and externally in order to quietly change things for the better.
8. To develop methodical and fair ways to help others.
9. Accountability for the desired humanitarian outcomes.

Keys To Managing

In this section are some needs which must be met in order for Brillian to perform at an optimum level. Some needs can be met by themself, while management must provide for others. It is difficult for a person to enter a motivational environment when that person's basic management needs have not been fulfilled. Review the list with Brillian and identify 3 or 4 statements that are most important to them. This allows Brillian to participate in forming their own personal management plan.

Brillian needs:

1. Equipment that will allow them to perform up to their high standards.
2. The facts in a logical sequence.
3. A warm and friendly work environment.
4. To understand the appropriate amount of detail in order to move ideas forward.
5. To make presentations on information gained in a palatable manner depending on the given audience.
6. To showcase areas of expertise when appropriate.
7. To be involved in long-term planning where people are the forefront of the plan.
8. The time to help others as it relates to their own performance objectives.
9. To be positioned as the champion of procedures, helping others understand them.
