Job Match Review

This section describes the key behavior and thinking traits in order of their importance to the job. Consider how each trait might impact Vincent Jones in the job of Team: Executive Assistant.

Higher Impact

Structure

Vincent Jones is receptive to working within an established structure. He tends to be calm and deliberate when implementing his chosen methods and systems. He displays good focus and consistency in his work habits.

Logical Problem Solving

Vincent Jones works very well with complex problems and strategic issues. He can explain his solutions logically and can communicate them in such a way as to gain buy-in from others.

Vocabulary

Vincent Jones is an avid learner who picks up new concepts easily and quickly. He is interested in a wide variety of topics and he constantly seeks out new ideas and concepts. In new environments he can readily pick up information, social rules, priorities and culture. He is able to grasp subtlety and nuance in communication, which can positively impact the precision with which he interacts with others.

Medium Impact

Rapid Problem Solving

Vincent Jones feels confident when asked to make quick decisions. He is comfortable in situations where he has to think on his feet. He can quickly identify patterns or themes from incoming information to solve problems.

Adaptability

Vincent Jones is a sincere person who is genuinely interested in making people feel comfortable. He will normally adjust to the needs of others and will refrain from actions that may cause unpleasantness. He is assertive, but he will achieve his goals through diplomatic persistence and by seeking cooperation from others.

Spatial Visualization

Vincent Jones prefers tasks that don't involve visualizing complex systems with multiple variables or moving parts. Tasks such as visualizing engineering, technical, mechanical, or structural problems, and other spatial requirements will generally not be his strengths.

Lower Impact

Responsiveness

Vincent Jones is markedly calm and could be perceived as unmoved by what occurs around him and rather delayed in his response time. He is motivated to make a decisive impact, but he does so in a deliberate and calculated fashion. He may prefer a steady rather than hectic production pace.

Sociability

Vincent Jones has an appropriate level of natural sociability, and he is capable of taking the lead to develop relationships and to promote his ideas in a practical fashion. While not a natural extrovert, he will involve himself with people and maintain relationships to achieve goals. Typically, he controls his emotions and reactions, and he avoids responding to people purely on an emotional level.

Assertiveness

Vincent Jones is aggressive and goal-directed. He searches for more effective ways to accomplish his objectives, and he will be deliberate in order to achieve decisive outcomes.

Intensity

Vincent Jones has a very high level of emotional intensity at work which can spur him to take action. When frustrated or committed to a cause or direction, he responds with a great deal of energy.

Optimism

Vincent Jones is generally friendly and likes to interact with others. He tends to take people and situations at face value unless there is some reason to be skeptical. He maintains a positive sense of the future in most situations unless there is some objective reason to be more skeptical.

Operating Style

A person's behavior and thinking traits combine together in unique ways to impact the way he or she works with and communicates with others.

Communication

Vincent Jones has good capacity for listening patiently, empathizing, and promoting respectful interactions. He does not actively seek to impose his views directly or forcefully, but he is willing to share information and to express his ideas in a cooperative and nonthreatening setting. While not outgoing or highly expressive, he maintains positive social values and attitudes, and he tends to see most people in a positive light. He may often impress people as somewhat laid back but also thoughtful and appropriately sensitive to the reactions and opinions of others.

Decision Making

Vincent Jones is at his best making decisions and working through obstacles when he has sufficient time to gather information and to think things through carefully and deliberately. He places a strong emphasis on being accurate, avoiding mishaps, and ensuring predictable, positive outcomes. He often refers to established precedents and rules as well as proven procedures and methods to guide his initiatives. He may resist being pressured to make rapid choices, especially in an unfamiliar or unstructured setting.

Ideal Environment

Vincent Jones appreciates predictable activities as well as defined performance standards and measurements. He tends to be unsettled by high levels of unpredictability, many rapid changes, and a continuing diet of disruptive interpersonal conflicts. He is a calm and consistent person who prefers work environments that are structured and stable and where he can interact with people on a cooperative, low key basis. He prefers directing his initiatives toward tasks, routines, and the steady implementation of established work procedures.

Ideal Supervisor

Vincent Jones is most compatible with an approachable and accessible supervisor who can provide good information, procedural guidance, and moral support. He is uneasy with unplanned, rapid changes, disorganization, and a supervisor who is unpredictable or vague in his expectations. He works to avoid mistakes and disapproval, and he likes to be assured that he is meeting standards and performing effectively. He values a supervisor who provides him with good training, adequate preparation, and time to ask questions and to process information.

Team Dynamics

Vincent Jones is affable and even tempered, and he tends to be receptive to a variety of personalities. He impresses people as calm and easygoing, and he is inclined to listen and think before reacting. He likes to keep relationships friendly and positive, and he avoids unnecessary controversy and conflicts. He prefers to focus his attention on achieving task-related goals and producing quality work. He enjoys the validation and support of team members, but he may not readily compromise on issues of importance when he believes that he is right.

Descriptive Review

Vincent Jones's traits do not exist in isolation of each other. Each trait impacts the others. Below is an integrated view of Vincent Jones. As you read this section, consider how Vincent Jones might perform as a Team: Executive Assistant.

Vincent Jones will be most compatible with a position in which he can utilize his high degree of patience as well as his ability to work within established guidelines and procedures. He will welcome spending part of his day in people oriented work. He is an aggressive person who has a natural tendency to take charge and to control his environment. He is self-reliant, direct, and can be socially assertive. He is a controlled individual who will not be expressive or highly reactive on the surface. He solves problems and thinks quickly, but externally he prefers to operate at a steady and deliberate pace.

He tends to be accommodating and adaptable in his relationships with people. He is generally not one to openly impose his ideas or expectations on others and will usually conform to group consensus. However, he is quite assertive, while also diplomatic, in pushing his objectives. He enjoys a work situation that is fairly well-structured and predictable. He can be highly efficient with job responsibilities that fall into familiar systems and routines. He is assertive and persistent and may rush forward into action while being careful to ensure he is correct. He can be effective in a helping or coordinating role because of his people skills and sensitivity. He may find some aspects of leadership uncomfortable, such as making demands and dealing with negative or contentious people.

Vincent Jones is oriented towards people and has a natural desire to interact with others. He tends to initiate contacts and enjoys variety in his interpersonal relationships. He has a typically upbeat attitude and demeanor, but he often looks for hidden problems in order to be prepared. He has a very high level of emotional intensity when dealing with difficulty or problems. When frustrated, he responds with a great deal of energy.

He is a natural problem solver and likes a steady flow of new problems at work. He can quickly identify solutions to daily problems as well as work methodically through larger, more complex issues. He can provide logical and linear explanations that greatly aid in his communication and persuasion.

Job Considerations

Vincent Jones has an overall high fit with the behavior and talent traits required in the job of Team: Executive Assistant. When evaluating potential job fit, it's helpful to examine each mismatch between Vincent Jones and the job targets.

Other Mismatches

Yellow mismatches are not considered overly important but are worth noting.

Spatial Visualization

Job Fit Description

The Spatial Visualization job target is High. People with high Spatial Visualization can easily picture and work with three dimensions in their minds.

Vincent Jones scored significantly below the target.

Considerations

- It may be difficult for him to give others direction on changes and corrections in the areas of manufacturing, tangible structures, or construction of any kind.
- It may be difficult for him to find and see errors and flaws in construction, design, manufacturing, or other three-dimensional work.

Responsiveness

Job Fit Description

The Responsiveness job target is Medium. People with medium Responsiveness can be expressive and enthusiastic at times, but they can also contain their responses when they feel it is appropriate.

Vincent Jones scored somewhat below the Responsiveness target.

Considerations

- He may have a harder time letting others sense his enthusiasm or excitement for an idea or project.
- He may not be as happy in a very hectic work environment.

Assessiveness

Job Fit Description

The Assertiveness job target is Medium. People with medium Assertiveness can be firm and direct while having the flexibility to get input from others when necessary.

Vincent Jones scored above the Assertiveness target.

Considerations

- He may at times appear to others to be set on doing things his way.
- He is more likely to be decisive without seeking counsel from others.

Trait Definitions: Behavior

Behavioral traits describe how a person acts. Individuals who score at the highest and lowest points have more pronounced characteristics.

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

DEFINITION	LOW	HIGH
1) ASSERTIVENESS taking initiative	RESERVED • Achieve goals through cooperation and good planning • Conservative in action • Move slowly to action • Faced with obstacles, tends to stop and reassess before moving forward again • Typically receptive to the actions of others	ASSERTIVE • Determined, persistent, and direct • Willing to move forward, take actions, and solve problems • May be confrontational and stubborn
2) SOCIABILITY the desire to work with others	TASK ORIENTED • Introspective and enjoy working with things and ideas • Must work at interacting with others, and may find long periods of social interaction stressful • Low sociability usually does not indicate unfriendliness, but a preference for fewer social contacts and less tendency to actively seek new relationships	PEOPLE ORIENTED • Driven to interact with others • Prefers not to work alone for extended periods of time and actively seeks new relationships • Tends to have a wide circle of contacts and acquaintances
3) RESPONSIVENESS how a person reacts and responds	CALM • Steady, calm, and patient • Works at a slower, composed pace to accommodate their reaction time • Tends to internalize their feelings and opinions	IMPATIENT • Fast-paced, excitable and impatient • Prefers an exciting, hectic, fast-paced work environment and likes a lot of things happening at once • Expresses themselves outwardly, rather than holding in their feelings when responding to external events
4) STRUCTURE the need to seek order and certainty	FLEXIBLE • Greater tolerance for ambiguity • More concerned with outcomes than following rules and established procedures	LIKES ORDER • Prefers order and certainty • Follows the rules and established procedures • Uncomfortable with uncertainty and ambiguity • Accurate and thorough
5) ADAPTABILITY the desire to accommodate others	INDEPENDENT • Independent minded and less concerned about the impact of their behavior on others. • Does not readily take other people's thoughts and feelings when making a decision.	ACCOMMODATING • Very concerned about other people's thoughts and feelings when deciding what to do or say • Diplomatic and tactful • Wants to be on positive terms with most people
6) INTENSITY the degree of reaction	COOL • Reacts less strongly when frustrated • Seeks a more reasoned or logical approach to resolution	HOT • When frustrated, responds with a high level of emotional vigor. Whether or not this frustration or vigor is displayed outwardly depends on a person's level of responsiveness
7) OPTIMISM the degree of positive thinking	SKEPTICAL • Actively looks for potential problems and worry about what could go wrong	OPTIMISTIC • Feels cheerful and upbeat most of the time and may ignore negative information.

1: Job Fit Verification Interview

Review the three steps below before you conduct the interview.

Step One: Prepare for the Interview

1. Thoroughly review the Job Fit Report for Vincent Jones.

2. Study the script and probing suggestions for Vincent Jones; edit the questions and add your own if necessary.

3. Check your mindset—your goal is to be objective.

   - Stay neutral, curious, and *listen
   - Watch your body language — don't nod, agree, cross arms, or lean forward or back
   - It's not a conversation — other than asking questions, don't engage with him and share personal experiences

Step Two: Conduct the Interview

1. Welcome Vincent Jones to the interview and make him comfortable:

   > Vincent Jones, thank you for coming in today. The reason I wanted to meet with you is to get to know you better, and understand some of the things that are important to you. At the end of our discussion, we can both determine if it makes sense to continue our conversation.

2. Introduce the verification process and set expectations:

   > I'm sure you are curious about the Keller Personality Assessment (or KPA) you completed for us, and I am excited to share the results. The report we have received describes your unique combination of traits. Each trait has beneficial aspects, so remember that there is no good or bad combination of traits! My goal is to truly understand who you are and how you operate, and review and edit the report together to get a custom report that is all about you. You are going to hear some great things about yourself—be proud of who you are! Ready to get started?(Big Smile!)

3. Follow the instructions for the Job Considerations, Operating Style and Descriptive Review, beginning each section by reading the heading and the purpose of the section.

4. Take notes throughout the interview, capturing words and phrases Vincent Jones uses as exactly as possible.

Step Three: Decision Point

Decide if Vincent Jones is a good fit with the Team: Executive Assistant job.

1. Verify the report with Vincent Jones, recording his responses in the Candidate Report Rating.

> On a scale of 1 to 10, how would you rate this report?
> Specifically, what was most accurate?
> What would you say was least accurate?
> Overall, do you have any comments or feedback on the report?

2. STOP if Vincent Jones is not a match, and exit with class:

> Thanks so much for your time today! I've really enjoyed getting to know you. We are in the process of interviewing several other candidates, and will be in touch (provide a date if possible and follow up with a call or email to let Vincent Jones know he did not get the job).
>
> (Or, refer to the job ranking) This role would not make the best use of your talents as you can see, (show Vincent Jones his Job Match Rating) but this/these roles would be an excellent fit (show him his Job Match rating for the role/s). (If you are hiring for that role or can refer Vincent Jones to someone who is) I would be happy to talk to you about that opportunity.
>
> Respond to possible questions:
> What's the next step?
> - I'll review the edits we made today in line with the Job Profile and determine if we have a match.
>
> What's the report for?
> - My goal today was to really get to know you as a person. Now I'll review the edits we made today in line with the Job Profile and determine if we have a match.
>
> Can I have a copy of my report?
> - I'm sorry, while I have shared with you everything generated by the report, we do not release the printed copy.

3. MOVE FORWARD if Vincent Jones is a match:

> You are a close match for this position, and I'd like to continue the interview process. I have some more questions I'd like to ask, and I am sure you will have some questions for me! Let's take a quick break and continue! (Offer a beverage and give Vincent Jones a few minutes to relax.)

On a scale of 1 to 10, how accurate would you say each sentence is?

> Vincent Jones is aggressive and goal-directed. He searches for more effective ways to accomplish his objectives, and he will be deliberate in order to achieve decisive outcomes.

If 10: What makes it a 10?

If 6 to 9: What would you change in the statement to make it a “10?”

If 1 to 5: Tell me how you are not that way.

Probing Suggestions

- Sometimes it makes sense to step back and assess a situation rather than jump in and take action. Tell me about some times where you waited before moving forward. How did this approach work for you and others?
- Tell me about some situations where you've found it necessary to take action in order to accomplish your objectives. What were the end results?

Dig Deeper

- "Tell me more” or “What’s another example?” or “Walk me through"
- “Give me an example of how that shows up in your job/at home/with your friends.”

Considerations

- He may at times appear to others to be set on doing things his way.
- He is more likely to be decisive without seeking counsel from others.

Operating Style

Vincent Jones's behavior traits combine together in unique ways to impact the way he works with and communicates with others.

Read each statement below to Vincent Jones. Ask Vincent Jones to assess the accuracy of each statement on a scale of 1 to 10.

Communication

Ask Vincent Jones

On a scale of 1 to 10, how would you rate the accuracy of the following statements?

Vincent Jones has good capacity for listening patiently, empathizing, and promoting respectful interactions. He does not actively seek to impose his views directly or forcefully, but he is willing to share information and to express his ideas in a cooperative and nonthreatening setting. While not outgoing or highly expressive, he maintains positive social values and attitudes, and he tends to see most people in a positive light. He may often impress people as somewhat laid back but also thoughtful and appropriately sensitive to the reactions and opinions of others.

Decision Making

Ask Vincent Jones

On a scale of 1 to 10, how would you rate the accuracy of the following statements?

Vincent Jones is at his best making decisions and working through obstacles when he has sufficient time to gather information and to think things through carefully and deliberately. He places a strong emphasis on being accurate, avoiding mishaps, and ensuring predictable, positive outcomes. He often refers to established precedents and rules as well as proven procedures and methods to guide his initiatives. He may resist being pressured to make rapid choices, especially in an unfamiliar or unstructured setting.

Ideal Environment

Ask Vincent Jones

On a scale of 1 to 10, how would you rate the accuracy of the following statements?

Vincent Jones appreciates predictable activities as well as defined performance standards and measurements. He tends to be unsettled by high levels of unpredictability, many rapid changes, and a continuing diet of disruptive interpersonal conflicts. He is a calm and consistent person who prefers work environments that are structured and stable and where he can interact with people on a cooperative, low key basis. He prefers directing his initiatives toward tasks, routines, and the steady implementation of established work procedures.

Ideal Supervisor

Ask Vincent Jones

On a scale of 1 to 10, how would you rate the accuracy of the following statements?

Vincent Jones is most compatible with an approachable and accessible supervisor who can provide good information, procedural guidance, and moral support. He is uneasy with unplanned, rapid changes, disorganization, and a supervisor who is unpredictable or vague in his expectations. He works to avoid mistakes and disapproval, and he likes to be assured that he is meeting standards and performing effectively. He values a supervisor who provides him with good training, adequate preparation, and time to ask questions and to process information.

Team Dynamics

Ask Vincent Jones

On a scale of 1 to 10, how would you rate the accuracy of the following statements?

Vincent Jones is affable and even tempered, and he tends to be receptive to a variety of personalities. He impresses people as calm and easygoing, and he is inclined to listen and think before reacting. He likes to keep relationships friendly and positive, and he avoids unnecessary controversy and conflicts. He prefers to focus his attention on achieving task-related goals and producing quality work. He enjoys the validation and support of team members, but he may not readily compromise on issues of importance when he believes that he is right.

Descriptive Review

Vincent Jones's traits do not exist in isolation of each other; each trait impacts the other. Below is an integrated view of Vincent Jones. Read this section to Vincent Jones and ask him to rate the accuracy of it on a scale of 1 to 10.

Vincent Jones will be most compatible with a position in which he can utilize his high degree of patience as well as his ability to work within established guidelines and procedures. He will welcome spending part of his day in people oriented work. He is an aggressive person who has a natural tendency to take charge and to control his environment. He is self-reliant, direct, and can be socially assertive. He is a controlled individual who will not be expressive or highly reactive on the surface. He solves problems and thinks quickly, but externally he prefers to operate at a steady and deliberate pace.

He tends to be accommodating and adaptable in his relationships with people. He is generally not one to openly impose his ideas or expectations on others and will usually conform to group consensus. However, he is quite assertive, while also diplomatic, in pushing his objectives. He enjoys a work situation that is fairly well-structured and predictable. He can be highly efficient with job responsibilities that fall into familiar systems and routines. He is assertive and persistent and may rush forward into action while being careful to ensure he is correct. He can be effective in a helping or coordinating role because of his people skills and sensitivity. He may find some aspects of leadership uncomfortable, such as making demands and dealing with negative or contentious people.

Vincent Jones is oriented towards people and has a natural desire to interact with others. He tends to initiate contacts and enjoys variety in his interpersonal relationships. He has a typically upbeat attitude and demeanor, but he often looks for hidden problems in order to be prepared. He has a very high level of emotional intensity when dealing with difficulty or problems. When frustrated, he responds with a great deal of energy.

He is a natural problem solver and likes a steady flow of new problems at work. He can quickly identify solutions to daily problems as well as work methodically through larger, more complex issues. He can provide logical and linear explanations that greatly aid in his communication and persuasion.

2: Thought Process Interview

Step One: Prepare for the Thought Process Interview

1. Review the Interview Tips from CV
    - With open-ended questions, the conversation can go in many directions—be prepared to ask great questions, listen, and analyze
2. Study the questions; make edits and add your own if necessary.
3. Check your mindset
    - Stay objective.
    - Be Thorough. Don't skip questions!

Step Two: Conduct the Interview

1. Segue from the Job Fit Verification:

> Thank you for your candor! I'd like to ask a few more questions. Before we get started, would you like to take a break? Can I get you some water/coffee?

2. Take notes throughout the interview, capturing words and phrases Vincent Jones uses as exactly as possible.

Step Three: Decision Point

1. STOP if Vincent Jones is not a match, and exit with class.

> The role we are currently offering would not be the best match for your talents. I'd like to stay in touch and if I hear of anything that would be a good fit for you, I will certainly let you know. I would also be happy to hear from you if you know of anyone who you feel would be a good fit for our organization.

2. MOVE FORWARD if Vincent Jones is a match.

> You are a close match for this position, and I'd like to continue the interview process. Would you be available for another interview tomorrow / later this week / early next week?

3: References

Step One: Prepare

1. Review the reference worksheets.
2. Check your mindset
   - Stay objective
   - Interpret what you hear and don't hear: People may be hesitant to speak negatively—but that doesn't mean they only have good things to say.

Step Two: Check the References

1. Get at least 3 third level references.

2. Ask each of the references you talk with for the name of another reference (not on the original list). This will take you two levels deep.

   > Who else do you know who has experience with Vincent Jones and can give us a different perspective? Do you happen to have their phone number?

3. Use the same script to ask the second-level references for additional references to go three levels deep. If some of the references object to giving names:

   > Reference Objection: I don't know if I should share other names.
   > Interviewer: In our company we have a discipline of identifying other people who have worked with Vincent Jones so we can get to know him better. As a hiring manager, I am held accountable to getting as much feedback as possible. Who do you recommend I talk to so I can get to know Vincent Jones better?

Step Three: Decision Point

1. STOP if Vincent Jones is not a match, and exit with class.
   At this point in the relationship, show respect for the time and effort Vincent Jones has made and end the process in person, on the phone, or with a handwritten note.

   > The role we are offering would not make the most of your incredible talents. I have really enjoyed getting to know you and would like your permission to keep your information on file, so if we do have a position matching your profile and talent in the future, we can bring you back in. Thank you so much for your time, and I look forward to any future opportunities we may be able to share.

2. MOVE FORWARD if Vincent Jones is a match—conduct the defense

4: Life Story Interview

Step One: Prepare for the Life Story Interview

1. Gather several different colored markers and a flipchart.

2. Study the format

My Professional Biography

Dates

Event 1: My Education _____ _____ (date)

Event 2: _____ _____ (date)

Event 3: _____ _____ (date)

Event 4: _____ _____ (date)

3. Check your mindset.

   - Stay objective
   - Remember: It is fine if Vincent Jones brings up personal information as he is interviewed, but you as the interviewer may not ASK about it.

Step Two: Conduct the Interview

1. Position the flip chart right so Vincent Jones is seated right in front. Stand next to the flip chart, so you can see Vincent Jones and write on the flip chart at the same time.

2. Using a black or blue marker, at the top of the flip chart, write “My Professional Biography,” and on the left side, write “Event 1: My Education.”

3. Draw a vertical line about three-fourths of the way across the page to divide right from left, and at the top of the right section of the page, write “Dates.”

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

4. Write the story of their professional journey.

> What we're going to do now is write your professional autobiography together, starting with the last time you were in school and moving forward. It's like your résumé, but we're going to go deeper than that. This is a chronological narrative of the defining events in your life. Inside each event, I'd like to know what you did, what happened, and what you learned.
> Let's start with the first event. When did you finish your education?
> (Write the answer under "Dates".)
> What happened?
> (Write the answer under "Event." You may switch colors for each line—it's easier to follow.)
>
> What were your "highs"?
> (Write the answers.)
>
> What disappointments did you have?
> (Write the answers.)
>
> Tell me about what you learned through this experience.
> (Write the answers.)
>
> Anything else you would like to add?
> If yes: (Add the information, then repeat the question until you get a no.)
>
> When no:
> Okay, when was the next major event in your life?
> (Write the answer next to "Event.")
> What was that?
> (Write the answer, for example, "My First Job" or "My Next Job.")

5. Follow the script and continue adding chapters, one at a time, picking up with the question "What happened?"—up to and including their current job or activity.

6. After you are finished, and just for fun, ask the candidate what title they would suggest for their professional biography.

Step Three: Decision Point

1. STOP if Vincent Jones is not a match, and exit with class

   At this point in the relationship, show respect for the time and effort Vincent Jones has made and end the process in person, on the phone, or with a handwritten note.

   > The role we are offering would not make the most of your incredible talents. I have really enjoyed getting to know you and would like your permission to keep your information on file, so if we do have a position matching your profile and talent in the future, we can bring you back in. Thank you so much for your time, and I look forward to any future opportunities we may be able to share.

2. MOVE FORWARD if Vincent Jones is a match—segue into the Motivational Interview.

   > This has been great! Thank you for sharing! I am really enjoying learning more about you. Let's take a quick break and continue. (Offer a beverage and give Vincent Jones 5-10 minutes to relax.)

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

5: Motivational Interview

Step One: Prepare

1. Gather at least 4 different colored markers and a flipchart
2. Study the format

3. Have your Candidate Reference List ready
4. Check your mindset
   - Stay objective
   - Remember: It is fine if Vincent Jones brings up personal information as he is interviewed, but you as the interviewer may not ASK about it.

Step Two: Conduct the Interview

1. Position the flip chart so Vincent Jones is seated right in front. You stand next to the flip chart, so you can see Vincent Jones and write on the flipchart at the same time.
2. Start by drawing a vertical line down the center and a horizontal line across the middle, resulting in four squares on the flip chart. Ask him what his two biggest priorities are besides Job and Money, then enter those priorities in the headings for squares 3 and 4.
3. Together, you and Vincent Jones will fill in the details of motivation on the flip chart.

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

4. Capture their vision for the future

> I want you to pretend that you and I are sitting in this room five years from now, and I ask you how the past five years have been. You say, “Awesome!”
>
> Question 1
> What has to happen in the Job dimension of your life for you to be able to say “Awesome” five years from now?
> (Summarize his answer in that upper left square. If he has more than one answer, list each answer in bulleted format.)
>
> Question 2
> How do you envision that? What would it mean for that to happen?
> (For example: Vincent Jones may have said he/she wants to make a lot of money; you must find out exactly what a lot of money looks like to Vincent Jones. Using a different color marker, enter his answer in the same box.)
>
> Question 3
> Why would that achievement be important to you? How would that make you feel?
> (Using a different color marker, enter their answer in the same box.)
>
> Question 4
> What will having this do for you? What do you get? What impact would this have on you? Give me an example.
> (Using a different color marker, enter their answer in the same box.)

5. Repeat the above questions and process for each of the priorities in the other three squares (Money and the other two). You might also consider adding a fifth square, for which you ask him, “What else is important?” When done, step back and ask if there is anything he would like to add.

6. Review the chart with Vincent Jones. Circle words that stand out. Ask the Vincent Jones if these are the words that really motivate him.

7. Reflect with Vincent Jones whether it’s possible for him to achieve all the things that are important to him through this role, or if their priorities are in conflict. Explore with him whether this job would get him closer to the things he values most.

Step Three: Decision Point

1. STOP if Vincent Jones is not a match, and exit with class.
   At this point in the relationship, show respect for the time and effort Vincent Jones has made and end the process in person, on the phone, or with a handwritten note.

   > The role we are offering would not make the most of your incredible talents. I have really enjoyed getting to know you and would like your permission to keep your information on file, so if we do have a position matching your profile and talent in the future, we can bring you back in. Thank you so much for your time, and I look forward to any future opportunities we may be able to share.

2. MOVE FORWARD if Vincent Jones is a match—check their references

   > Thank you so much for your time today! I've asked you a lot of questions and now I'd like to switch gears and share the opportunity we have to offer (share the company vision). Let me tell you the role I think you can play in this (speak to their motivations/goals. Be persuasive and energetic).
   >
   > I'd like to continue the process by checking your references—could you please fill out our reference check form, sign it, and send it back to me as soon as possible? Once I have checked your references, I'll be in touch.
   >
   > I'd also like you to meet with the team. This will give you all a chance to get to know each other. Please ask them any questions you have about the job.
   >
   > (If you are arranging lunch) _____ (name of social chair) will be in touch to make lunch plans.
   >
   > (If team is immediately available) They can meet with you now. Would like a cup of coffee/glass of water?

6: Group

Step One: Prepare for the Group Interview

1. Invite the team members the candidate will be working with.

2. Go over your expectations—what questions would you like them to ask?

3. Share the highlights and any concerns from your interviews.

4. Go over Vincent Jones's KPA - they can help you verify the profile.

5. Let them know this is not a democracy.

   > This is not a vote. It is your opportunity to give your feedback on how well you think Vincent Jones will fit in with the team.

6. Check your mindset.
   - Make this the fun part!
     The Group Interview is not a serious grilling process, but rather an easygoing, casual, and friendly conversation between peers in a relaxed setting.

Step Two: Conduct the Group Interview

1. Designate the 'social chair'

   - You do not attend this interview!
   - Assign a person on your team who is friendly and sociable to spearhead this interview and be Vincent Jones's reference point.

2. When the group returns from lunch/coffee, meet with them to gather their observations.

   - Do they think Vincent Jones would be a good fit for the team? Yes No
   - Do they express any serious reservations? Yes No

Step Three: Decision Point

1. STOP if Vincent Jones is not a match, and exit with class.

   At this point in the relationship, show respect for the time and effort Vincent Jones has made and end the process in person, on the phone, or with a handwritten note.

   > The role we are currently offering would not be the best match for your considerable talents. I have really enjoyed getting to know you and would like your permission to keep your information on file, so if we do have a position matching your profile and talent in the future, we can bring you back in. Thank you so much for your time, and I look forward to any future opportunities we may be able to share.

2. MOVE FORWARD if Vincent Jones is a match—check their references

7: Defense

Step One: Prepare for Defense

1. Share copies of all of the important documents you have collected.

    - The job profile and résumé
    - Notes from the screening phone call
    - Vincent Jones's KPA Job Fit Report and your notes from the Verification process, including Thought Process
    - Flip charts and notes from the Life Story and Motivational interviews
    - Notes from the Group interview and reference-check process

Step Two: Conduct the Defense

The committee reviews steps 1, 2, and 3 of the process and brainstorms several key questions to draw out the upside and downside of a potential hire.

Step One—Filter

1. Review the job profile and résumé.
    - Does Vincent Jones have the knowledge, skills, track record, and culture to get the job done? Where is Vincent Jones's match? Where is he a mismatch?
    - Is Vincent Jones Potential Talent, Emerging Talent, or Proven Talent?

Step Two—Interviews

1. Job Fit: did the verification confirm Vincent Jones's personality profile is a match?
2. Thought Process: does his thinking and culture make him a good fit for our organization? Will he stay?
3. Life Story: does Vincent Jones's track record show a pattern of success?
4. Motivation: will this role get him closer to achieving what he most values?

Step Three—Perspective

1. Did Vincent Jones fit in with the team?
2. Does his references—including the 3-deep references—confirm that he can do what he says he can?

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

Brainstorm—With the team, think of every conceivable answer to these questions.

1. Can Vincent Jones be successful in this position? Why?

2. Imagine he fails in the first year. What might be the one thing that could have caused that, based on what you know about Vincent Jones? Can it be avoided?

3. Imagine Vincent Jones is succeeding, yet decides to leave. What was probably the one thing that drove his decision? Can it be avoided?

Step Three: Decision Point

1. STOP if Vincent Jones is not a match, and exit with class.

   At this point in the relationship, show respect for the time and effort Vincent Jones has made and end the process in person, on the phone, or with a handwritten note.

   > The role we are offering would not make the most of your incredible talents. I have really enjoyed getting to know you and would like your permission to keep your information on file, so if we do have a position matching your profile and talent in the future, we can bring you back in. Thank you so much for your time, and I look forward to any future opportunities we may be able to share.

2. MOVE FORWARD if Vincent Jones is a match—you are ready to make an offer!

   > Could you come back to meet with me _____ (date and time)? We'll need about an hour. Great! Thank you! Really looking forward to it!

Copyright © 2026 All Rights Reserved

8: Expectations and Offer

Step One: Prepare for Expectations Conversation

1. Review the expectations conversation and the topics you will be covering.

    - How candid you will be with each other when communicating honestly. This is a key to knowing how to communicate bad news.
    - What Vincent Jones's “hot buttons” are on the job—how you win or lose with him.
    - How to handle sensitive issues.
    - The job description—what Vincent Jones will actually be doing.
    - The standards Vincent Jones will have to meet—what level of quality and service is required.
    - How you will hold him accountable.

Step Two: Conduct the Expectations Conversation

1. As you ask each of the questions, note the answer given. As you share your expectations, record them as well.

2. You may enter your answers on the document prior to the meeting with Vincent Jones. If you do that, be sure to note any differences in the information you provide during the meeting on the form.

3. Give the completed form to Vincent Jones and have him initial and date each page before returning it to you.

Step Three: Decision Point

1. It is unlikely that you or Vincent Jones will opt out of going into business together at this stage of the process, but do not rule it out as an option. If the expectations conversation is not mutually satisfactory, it is not too late to hit the eject button!

Offer

Step One: Prepare for the Offer

1. Customize the offer letter and Orientation to Vincent Jones.

2. Check your Mindset!

    - This is the first step of your future employer-employee relationship; set the tone by making a positive impact.

Step Two: Conduct the Offer

1. Be enthusiastic and convey your excitement to Vincent Jones!

    - How many candidates did Vincent Jones beat out? Tell him!
    - Describe what accomplishments really stood out and the impact you know he will make on your company.
    - Tell Vincent Jones how impressed his future colleagues are and how excited they are to be working together.

2. Use the offer letter (following pages) to thoroughly explain the pay and benefits, as well as assuming his buy-in with the orientation schedule.

3. Get whatever commitment you can. Most candidates want time to consider the offer, but go ahead and ask Vincent Jones what they think of the offer and tune into any hesitations you sense—you may be able to provide him with more information to influence his decision.

Step Three: Decision Point

1. It is unlikely that you or Vincent Jones will opt out of going into business together at this stage of the process, but do not rule it out as an option. If the offer is not mutually satisfactory, it is not too late to hit the eject button!

Warning: Before using this letter, be sure you have your attorney review it for issues that are state specific.

(DATE)

(CANDIDATE NAME AND ADDRESS)

Dear (FIRST NAME),

We are pleased to extend to you an offer of employment at (COMPANY) as a (POSITION). The terms of employment, commencing on or before (START DATE), will be as follows:

Compensation:

You will receive a/an (SALARY TIME PERIOD) salary of $(AMOUNT) to be paid (PAY PERIOD), subject to any and all necessary withholding and deductions for income taxes, FICA, Social Security, and similar items.

Benefits:

(COMPANY) offers a variety of benefits, including (BENEFITS LIST). Please refer to benefits documentation for specific details of the plans. You will receive your benefits package (BENEFITS PACKET RECEIVED DATE). Benefits are effective (WHEN BENEFITS START).

(STATE – DELETE IF PARAGRAPH DOESN'T APPLY) is an "At Will" employment state. Accordingly, your employment with (COMPANY) will be "at will," and can be terminated by you or by (COMPANY) at any time, with or without cause or advance notice. By accepting this job offer, you agree that no contrary representation has been made to you.

In no event shall your employment be construed as a contractual relationship between (COMPANY) and you, or guaranteeing employment for any specific period of time. In the event the employee decides to terminate the employment relationship, the company would appreciate 2 weeks written notice.

If you are in agreement with the above-mentioned terms, please confirm your agreement as soon as possible by signing the enclosed copy of this letter and returning it to us at your earliest convenience.

Orientation Schedule

If you choose to accept the position, (COMPANY) will be conducting an Employee Welcome and Orientation on your first day of employment. During the orientation, you will be introduced to the company systems and you will complete your payroll, benefits, and federally required employment paperwork.

The Orientation and Enrollment meetings have been scheduled for the following dates and times:

- Employee Welcome
  8:15 a.m. on (START DATE) with (CONTACT)
- New Employee Orientation
  8:30 a.m. on (START DATE) with (CONTACT)
- Post-Offer Drug Test
  You will be sent to the appropriate off-site location

(COMPANY) is required by federal law to verify your eligibility to work in the United States. It is critical that you bring the items, listed below, to the orientation meeting. Without them, we will be unable to process a paycheck for you or enroll you, or your dependents, in our benefits plan.

- You will need form(s) of personal identification to complete your I-9 Form. Typically employees may bring their Social Security card and driver's license or your passport. Please see the attached list for acceptable documents.
- If you would like to take advantage of direct deposit, please bring a copy of a voided check for the banking account(s) involved.
- You will also need the birth dates and Social Security numbers of your family members if you plan to enroll them in the group health insurance or life insurance plans.

We are all excited at the prospect of your joining us here at (COMPANY), and believe that the confidence we have in your ability will be more than justified by your contributions in the years ahead.

Sincerely,

(PERSON MAKING OFFER)
